THE STRENGTH OF FAITH

Do we ever stop and wonder,
How everything came to be.
How a rose develops its fragrance?
How the bark grows on a tree?

Scientists have their theories,
But are they all correct?
They test this, they test that,
But do they ever stop to reflect?

Just to think this had all come,
From the eternal heavens above,
The one and true creator,
Who gave us feelings like fear and love.

But are we taking it all for granted,
Just expecting it to appear,
What would happen to us all,
If He decided to make it disappear.

We depend on so many things,
Such as power, television and radio,
What if one day,
It really did all go?

But I know He would'nt take it all away,
I know he'd leave one thing,
Something only a few of us have,
And that is our faith in him.

It is faith that keeps us living,
It keeps us moving along,
Because faith has so much power,
Intensifying and strong.

EDITOR'S REPORT

The oldest Bunbury Catholic College school magazine that I have seen, was produced in 1980. The cover was drawn by Donna M. of Year Eight. The contents consisted of handwritten pages and a few photographs. Fifty six pages in all. Three of the people in the staff photo are still here and Mrs Rita Byrne has only left us this year.

A group of hard working year eleven students

As I look through the magazines produced since then, I see the changes made within the school. The new buildings, new staff, different students. The only thing that does not really change is the enthusiasm of the staff and students producing each new magazine. Their aim has always been to produce a magazine which helps the College Community to remember back to those "good old days".

In the same traditions of 1980 and every other year that Bunbury Catholic College has produced a school magazine, the staff and students that contributed to this year's magazine have produced an excellent piece of work. The one hundred pages that make up this magazine are truly a production by the students for the school community.

The cover this year was designed by Hayden Mills of Year Eleven. The students of the year eleven Applied Computing class have typed most of the articles and placed them into the layouts using the computer technology available in the computing room.

The students are:

Delene	Bartley
Natasha	Burek
Trudi	Carr
Jasmine	Chessell
Meghan	Dwyer
Linda	Earl
Renee	Hastings
Fiona	Hayward
Debra	Jennings
Chantell	Martin
Sonja	O'Connor
Robert	Pitts
Linda	Rodway
Joelene	Sheridan
Cillian	Stockdale
Troy	Frontino

Several teachers were involved in collecting articles, taking photographs, typing their own reports and encouraging students to make contributions. At the risk of missing some out, I thank Mr Stewart for his photography, Miss Flanagan, Mrs Hogan, Ms Battista and Mrs McGowan for proof reading and suggesting changes.

This magazine has been another success by the students and teachers involved. I would like to thank them all. May God bless you.

PRINCIPAL'S REPORT

My Lord Bishop, members of the College community, I am privileged to present to you the 1995 Bunbury Catholic College Report.

In this year staff at the College focussed strongly on our roles in the light of the Vision Statement; the aim was to bring the words off the wall and into effect in our daily lives. What should life at the College be like if we indeed lived by the words:

"Through quality teaching and learning in an environment enlivened by Christ's spirit of love, justice, and freedom Bunbury Catholic College strives to empower students to achieve their potential as our Gift to God."

Four days and another afternoon and evening of personal time were committed to examining quality teaching and learning through the principles of Language, Learning, and Literacy together with an intensive appraisal of our vision, mission, and environment. Immediate effects were to ensure that the statement itself appeared on publications like the daily Bulletin so that it was at least seen frequently. Much work remains to be done and it is my hope that 1996 will see staff, students, and community refining our aims, goals, policies and practices, and bringing our vision statement into true life. Contact with other Marist schools and communities was increased this year through seminars open to a wider range of staff and these experiences have already impacted on our understanding of our role as a Catholic school with a Marist and Mercy heritage.

Quality teaching and learning is by no means a new vision for the College, and we were delighted with the final academic results of our 1994 year 12 students. An aggregate in excess of 250 points (i.e. an exam average of 50%) was achieved by 82% of our students; 270 points (an exam average of 54% and representing the entry rate to some Tertiary courses this year) was achieved by 76% of our students; 60% of our students scored in excess of 300 aggregate points.

Special congratulations go to Michael Courtney (406 points); Ben Sanderson (393 points); Cindy Campbell (379 points); Karl Wright (365 points); Joshua Giumelli (362 points); Joshua Shalders (362 points); Kristy-Jane Eastough (354 points); and Aaron Gibson (351 points).

New academic directions in 1995 included the Vocational Interest Program (developed by Mr. Peter Selby and designed to allow students the opportunity to combine workbased learning with their academic program) and the Year 13 program. Students apply for entry to the latter program and are required to have demonstrated a capacity to commit themselves to a goal and work consistently with an improved TEE aggregate being the aim; similarly the former program demands that students bring to the program a proven capacity for perseverance and consistency.

The Music Department flourished with the installation of a complete keyboard laboratory and steady growth in providing more instruments and a wider contact for students with peripatetic staff; students are now able to access keyboard, string, percussion, and some wind instruments in class music and develop individual instruments such as violin, clarinet, saxophone, flute, and trumpet after school hours.

Radio BCC finally made it from dream to reality and now broadcasts each morning to students, parents, and the local community; plans for expansion and development are well in hand for the coming year.

Our teaching staff continued to devote much time and energy to exposing our students to as wide a range of opportunities and experiences as possible; year eleven and twelve students were offered exposure to the Melbourne Theatre Arts Convention and performance experience in Drama presentations; students were given the opportunity to perform at the Rock 'N' Roll Eisteddfod and demonstrated their excellence, reaching the Finals; Art students again presented work in the Angelico Art Competition; Home Economics' students delighted the community with the Catering Dinner; all students were offered the opportunity to display their work at the Forum during Education Week and again at the inaugural Art Extravaganza — a showcase for all the art, craft, cultural, and technical advances of our students. Staff took students off to Biology Camps, Art Camps, Geography Camps, Literary Nights, and numerous Seminars.

A first for 1995 was our participation in the Bunbury Sister City Visit to Setagaya; eight year ten and eleven students departed for Japan during the third term holiday break accompanied by Mrs. Morris and sampled life in Setagaya in schools and in homes, returning with broadened vision and future travelling plans.

Competitions included the Science Talent Search (Human Biology) in which Tina Commisso, Kelli Howell, Olivia Princi, and Anna Compagnone achieved Merit certificates; the National Geography Competition in which 70% of our students scored above the average and five of our students gained recognition in the top 7% in Australia; the State Science Competition which saw Berkeley Tanner and Brendan Pedrazzoli achieve in the top 1% of the State and another 11 students gain Distinctions; the State English Competition in which 40 of 55 students entering the competition gained Distinction or Credit. Individually, Piotr Baizert won a place in the BHP Engineering Summer School in Adelaide, Aaron Turner won his place to the CRA National Youth Science School and Gary Dimasi won a first in the Junior Cattle Handling competition. We were also pleased to note one of our recent ex-students, James Ricks, gaining recognition and second place in the National Vogel Literary Awards.

In striving to provide a Christian environment staff and students continued to develop a prayer life through daily prayer; weekly Mass in the College Chapel; a decade of the rosary recited in the months of May and October; Retreats considering Acceptance and Tolerance (year eight), Reconciliation (year nine), Choices and Directions (year ten), Community (year 11), and Family (year 12); Assemblies, in particular the Ash Wednesday Assembly and our Farewell to Year 12 Assembly; and the Opening and Thanksgiving Mass through which we offer our hopes and gifts to our God. Two year 11 students, Jason Humble and Brendan Pedrazzoli, crafted very beautiful holy water fonts which now adorn the Chapel entrance walls. We were privileged as a College to share in the responsibility for the Sunday Mass in the Cathedral on May 21st.

The spirit of Christ's love, justice and freedom was put into action during the year

The spirit of Christ's love, justice and freedom was put into action during the year through the implementation of the College Anti-Bullying Policy, through College involvement with the "Give a Damn, Give a Can" project, through student artistic endeavors in painting the shelters at Koombana Bay as a Community Aid project, through fundraising for a number of Charities particularly the Pontifical Missions and SIDS, through the "Adopt An Island" program in which year eleven students and Mr. Browning planted in excess of 600 trees; through participation in Anzac Day and Victory in the Pacific Day Parades and Memorials; through hosting MacKillop College year eight and nine students for a day of sports and activities; through Leadership Seminars for our student representatives particularly in the Senior years; through Socials; and for year elevens through Outward Bound.

As always, our students demonstrate exceptional potential and noteworthy achievements in the sporting arena.

And so to the question of empowerment. Do all our activities contribute to this aspect of personal growth? Our record above demonstrates that for many we are able to develop their potential in the Academic sphere, and hopefully in what it means to live as a Christian.

As always, our students demonstrate exceptional potential and noteworthy achievements in the sporting arena.

Participation in ACC swimming, athletics, and cross-country once again witnessed a number of team and individual "bests"; this year we also competed with the South West Independent Secondary Schools Association (SWISSA) and we will be hosting the athletics for this in 1996.

Team sports in 1995 included Basketball—the girls' team were Grand Finalists; Netball—BCC teams came first and second and participated in the inaugural Marist Interstate Netball Carnival in Adelaide; Hockey—the under 15's were Grand Finalists; Water Polo—BCC teams took first, second, and fourth places; Dragon Boating—BCC took off Junior State Titles and also took off first and third place in the milk carton Regatta at the Aqua Spectacular; Football—BCC first XV111 won the SWISSA football competition. This year also saw the introduction of outrigger canoeing to student sporting opportunities.

In all our work with students we are thankful for the full support of our parent community.

Individual sporting achievements were many and varied. In Golf Andrea and Penelope Clohessy won the Schoolgirls' Shield in the State Championships; in Horseriding Kylie Sanday was Champion fourteen year old and Louise Sanday was Champion sixteen year old amongst High School Riders in the region; Holly Monkman again excelled herself in State and National Surfing Championships; Paul Cross won third place in the All School Cross Country Competition and won the five kilometer stretch in the Open Male Division for the Collie Fun Run, Anthony Brookes winning the under seventeen's; Kate Italiano won Junior Championship Tennis in both singles and doubles; Angela Summerfield came home with a silver medal from a 1500m win in National competitions in Singapore; Tim Pardoe brought back a bronze medal and Ben Sciesinski a gold medal from Archery Competitions; Ben Halligan made third place in the WA Schools Triathlon; Ashley Doorey won selection to the State under fourteen Rugby team; Michael Jefferee won selection to the State under fifteen Hockey team and he and Matthew Mellor, David Prout, and Mark Johnson were awarded scholarships to the South West Academy of Hockey. Most notable achievements were Toni Ciffolilli, nominated Junior Sportswoman of the year and Scott Cumming who won the title of Junior Sports Star of the year.

In all our work with students we are thankful for the full support of our parent community.

Our P&F established a fully functioning Uniform Shop which now provides all uniform items, giving a service to parents by eliminating additional retail costs. Fundraising during the year included the annual Art Extraordinaire which gives us the freedom to develop facilities otherwise beyond our reach; the cakeless cake stall; progressive dinner, film night; and Quilt raffle. Canteen facilities, like the Art Extraordinaire, are a major source of funds for our students while providing a service which strives to encourage healthy eating at reasonable prices.

The College Board once again initiated and developed significant areas; the new uniform shop building (funded by the P&F); extensions to the Woodwork room; landscaping and bitumising the student car park and improving the bike rack area; restoring and replacing a number of lockers; and maintaining the good order and condition of the school and grounds. Consultation with Board members and the parent community enables College staff to plan effectively for the future.

Reviewing the achievements of the year always leaves me with a sense of gratitude for the support and work of so many people committed to the future of our young people. Despite the risk of forgetting someone I would like to record my gratitude to Bishop Quinn and the local Parish Priests for their support and advice; to Father Jess our Chaplain on whom we rely heavily for guidance and leadership in the spiritual direction for ourselves and our students and who always happily contributes; to Mr. Bryan Sykes, Board Chairperson who unstintingly gives his time, insight, and expertise; to Helen Rolfe, President of the P&F for her efficient and enthusiastic leadership; to Frank Townsend who once again led the Art Extraordinaire Committee and ensured a successful event; to Maria Trovato, Canteen Manageress for her consideration of our students needs and ready willingness to present only the best; to Tanya Downes for her most effective organisation of uniforms in the shop's inaugural year—there seemed to be no significant problems at all!

Thanks seems such a small word, especially when it comes to staff. No college community could be better served or more willingly served than by this team of people who strive to give our students the best possible secondary education. It is a relatively simple matter to school students—educating them is a different question altogether. The opportunities afforded our students—and not all of them are listed above—can only become realities through the willing involvement of teachers assisted by a strong team of support staff. And so I thank each one, in particular my Deputies, Pat McDonagh and Les Fabre for their commitment, wisdom, and energy; my Secretary Ana De Gooijer for her continued support and effort; Brent Steere for his guidance and planning in the administration area; our office staff, our ground staff, and our support staff. Without each one of you we could not achieve our goals.

Finally, our farewells for 1995.

Finally, our farewells for 1995. Earlier in the year Michael Rubie embarked on new directions and we wish him well in these; Mrs. Rita Byrne sadly left to support Don and our prayers are with them both. On Long Service Leave during the coming year are Mark Browning (first term); Michael Downes (first term); Stan Perry (first semester); Rachel Moore (second semester); Paul Greaves (second semester) Peter Selby (fourth term). We wish each of you a happy and productive break.

Leaving us at the end of this year to begin new directions are Karen Flanagan (marriage and a future spouse working in Perth); Janine Keall (MacKillop College, Busselton); Paul Johnson (King, Gibson & Lewis, Bunbury); Leanne O'Callaghan (new baby); Jeff Kenny who picked up Michael Rubie's classes for 1995; Maxine Nayton who generously covered Rita Byrne's classes during her absence; and Lucy Lennardwho replaced Nan Martella while she was on long service leave. We ask God's blessings for each of you and for ourselves as we continue our journey.

We ask God's blessings for each of you and for ourselves as we continue our journey.

RELIGION

During 1995, both students and staff have been actively involved in the ebb and flow of school life.

During 1995, both students and staff have been actively involved in the ebb and flow of school life.

Our Opening Mass, on February 10, was the first occasion on which the students met our new College Chaplain, Fr Jess Navarra. (Staff had met Jess at their final Mass in December 1994.) Within a few weeks all Year 8 classes had been visited by Fr Jess and he had celebrated Homeroom Masses for 11S and 11M. He has been an integral part of our RE Programme and School Liturgies. We are delighted that he will be working with us again in 1996.

Shortly after our Ash Wednesday Paraliturgy at which Year 12 students played a leading role, we were able to celebrate the Sacrament of Reconciliation (Second Rite) with all Year 9's. Father Bernie Hammond and Fr Bill Costello kindly assisted Fr Jess on this occasion. Later in the term, just before Easter, Fr H Kelly from Dardanup House of Prayer gave his assistance when Year 12's received this sacrament. Both Year 9's and Year 12's appreciated the reflective and peace-filled experience. It was in the second term, during their Unit Curriculum Exams, that Year 10's were able to have a similar experience. We are very grateful to these priests for their involvement in the developing faith life of our students.

In the classroom, our piloting of the revised RE Guidelines and New Secondary RE Units has continued.

Also in Lent, we held the first of many Retreat Days. On March 16, with the help of some parishioners and parents, Year 11's laboured along The Way of the Cross. It was hot, dusty and tiring, yet it gave them an insight into the sufferings of Jesus at the same time as it challenged them to deepen their own personal faith.

In May, Year 10's thoroughly enjoyed a Retreat Day of drama and personal faith testimonies presented by the Disciples Youth Mission Team. During the Eucharist they were invited to receive the Sacrament of Anointing with Fr Evan and Fr Michael assisting Fr Jess.

In early June, after their exams , Year 12's set off for their four day Retreat at Baldivis. Br Harry Prout FMS led a team of teachers and Fr Leon Russell from Busselton was our priest (and a group leader). That time together was one of the highlights of the year for the Year 12's.

Later in June it was time for the Year 9's to have their first Retreat. They were challenged to be more informed about the needy within the local community. A day of guest speakers and roleplays culminated in a reflective celebration of the Eucharist. Third term saw 3 Retreat Days for Year 9's, 10's and 8's respectively. Themes ranged from Christian decision-making to acceptance of others. Once more we were assisted by parish workers such as Malcolm Hart (YCS part-timer) and groups such as The Edge Performing Arts Group. In fourth term Year 11's had the final Retreat which focused on 'community'.

I think the range and depth of Retreat experience we have offered this year is but one indication of the energy and enthusiasm consistently given by RE teachers. Another is the fact that some teachers have been studying units of Scripture or Theology from the Catholic Institute or Edith Cowan University in their own time. Nearly all RE staff have now gained their Accreditation B, which means they have completed three tertiary level units plus an inservice course on the Archdiocesan RE Guidelines for secondary schools.

In the classroom, our piloting of the revised RE Guidelines and New Secondary RE Units has continued. In 1996 all schools will be offering these units with the amendments and improvements suggested by our teachers having been incorporated.

Fundraising for charities, in particular for the Missions, is a constant reminder that our cries of faith in a loving God who calls us to be just and merciful are meaningless without a committed generosity towards those who live in poverty. Homerooms such as 8J, 9K, 10T and 11M have been outstanding in their commitment to the promised task of raising $2000 for St Gabriel's School in Botswana and any extra funds e.g. $150 to the Marist Rwanda Project.

Our Thanksgiving Mass in November had the theme 'The Flight of Life". The words of one our Year 12's, Melanie Lumley, are a fitting way of describing the year of 1995: "We have endured while being nurtured with love sent from God and his angels. We understand that we are but fledglings learning to expand our wings and that we will grow and develop accordingly."

HEAD BOY AND GIRL

The Year 1995 bought with it many changes and challenges, appropriately titled 'the Year of tolerence'. The school as a whole has achieved many great things and as a result has grown and developed. We saw the great success of the School's many Year 12 annual events, such as the ball and our Year 12 retreat.

Many thanks go to all involved as without them these events couldn't continue to be such a success. We thank, Miss Love, Miss Ryan, Mr Robb, Mrs Hogan and the ball committee for their organization which resulted in a 'Heavenly Night', to Mrs Forrest, Mr Greaves, Mrs Van Der Wiele, Mr Robb, Mrs McGowen, Miss McDonagh, Mr Hogan, Brother Harry Prout, the group leaders and organizers and all the other helpers such as cooks, parents and all of Year 12 for making the four days of retreat run so smoothly. The retreat was thoroughly enjoyed by all and it was felt much was achieved and gained from the experience.

A huge thankyou must also go to Mrs Downes, Mrs Hogan, Christine, Scott and the rest of the SRC for our leaving jumpers.

The School's SRC has worked tirelessly all Year, right from Year 8 through to Year twelve. Through their effort and persistance much has been achieved and for this a thank you must be given. The SRC's achievement, ranging from the installment of new equipment to the success of the Fete, their attendance at many functions and marches and their help in organising many of our school assemblies and masses.

We would also like to thank all teachers involved for their tireless efforts in helping the school SRC in their yearly activities, as without them most of the events held at our school would not have been possible.

For the first Year the SRC and House captains have shared a special relationship, often involving combined roles. The sports and swimming carnivals this year have been a great success and congratulations must go to all these house and vice captains. We would also like to thank Mr Eglington and Mrs Hamlet for helping and supporting the House Captains in their activities.

A special mention must go to Mr Greaves, our Year 12 Co-ordinator, our three homeroom teachers and other staff who have played a vital role in our final year. They have directed and guided us to develop into induviduals, ready to tackle the challenges ahead. Thankyou for your advice and constant support.

We'd also like to extend a thankyou to our Deputies, Miss McDonagh and to Mr Fabre and our principal Mrs McGowan, for the interest they have shown throughout our high school careers, far beyond what is expected. With their help the year has been fruitful and prosperous.

Last, but by no means least, we'd like to thank all of our year group who have helped to make the year a memorable and enjoyable one. Many new friendships have been formed and we will take with us many precious memories and great hopes.

HOUSE CAPTAINS

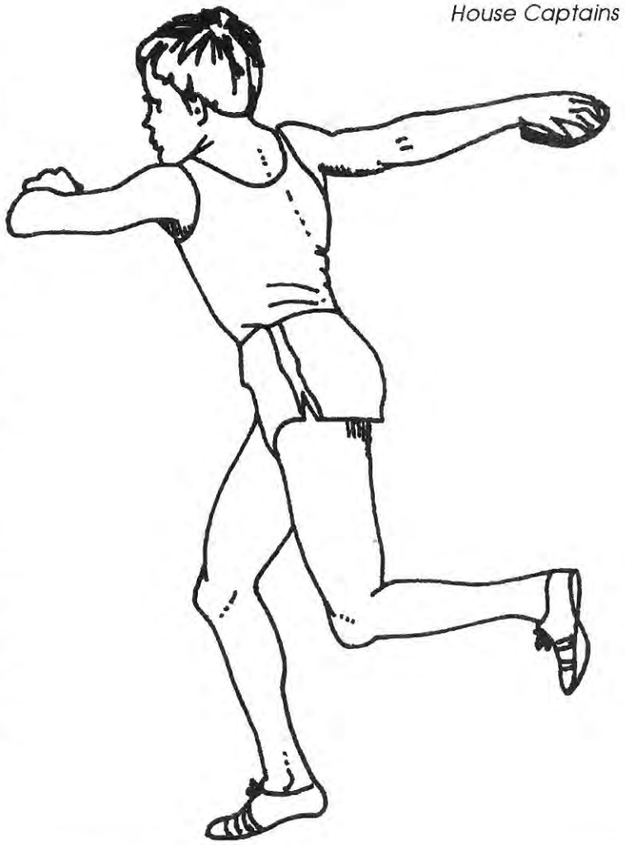

VALENTINE HOUSE

So we didn't win the swimming carnival (we came second), we didn't win the cross country (we came third) and we didn't win the athletics carnival (we came third)... but we did win the prestigious poofy panda twice and the B and C division shield at the swimming carnival. The panda just goes to prove that we were the most efficient and motivated house during 1995, which is really better than winning any shield, and hey if we didn't lose there wouldn't have been a winner... let's just ponder on that for a moment.

We cannot forget our main helpers in 1995. A huge thankyou must go to our House Captains, Jasmine Chessel and Josh Fogarty. Maryanne and myself would like to wish Valentine all the best in 1996 and carry on the success of 1995, and remember "Shake, Shake, Shake, Shake, Shake, Shake, Shake your Booties".

Maryanne Sykes, Stephen Symonds.

MATHS COMPETITION

This year 135 students from Bunbury Catholic College participated in the annual Westpac Mathematics Competition. This is a truly international event with more than 400 000 candidates worldwide.

Craig Jennings in 8M achieved the best individual result scoring in the 98th percentile.

Of the 135 students 44% scored Credits which places them in the top 50% of the State and a further 19% scored Distinctions which places them in the top 15% of the State. The Distinction winners were:

Year 8: Craig Jennings; Glenn Ursino

Year 9: Jemma Harris; Hayley Thompson; Nathan Ball; James Wright; Craig Cumming; Mitchell Gibson; Michael Martella; Cameron Lindberg; Bree Maciejewski; Berkeley Tanner; Penny Clohessy

Year 10: Mark Patane

Year 11 and 12: Ben Halligan; Piotr Baizert; Anna Myers; Tim Pardoe; Byron Sutcliffe; Izabela Paszkudzka

SCIENCE COMPETITION

As part of their biology course in year 11 students must complete an independent research project on a topic of their choice. Two of these projects were of such a high standard that it was decided to enter them in the STAWA Science Competition. In the regional competition Anna Compagnone won first prize and Fiona Dillon won second prize. Anna's project went on to win a Certificate of Merit in the statewide competition. Well done to both girls.

YEAR 9 AND 10 DRAMA 1995.

In 1995 the Bunbury Catholic College community has been presented with an abundance of originality, variety and talent. Unforgettable performances have been made throughout the year.

Our first public performance of the year was to entertain a group of teachers from St. Joseph's primary school, when they visited Bunbury Catholic College to view our work. Three separate pairs each performed a short mime, Ben's performance was heroic for his silence when he really wanted nothing but to scream in a high alto.

Our next performance was to entertain the guests who attended the Year Eleven catering night. A cast of five performed an Oriental mime to coincide with the theme of the night. The performers gave their very best and left me with a shiner as a rememberance of the occasion.

One cannot say that the Bunbury Catholic College drama group does not give of their best during public performances.

The build-up to the variety night was full of enthusiasm and fun for us all and I believe that our guests had a most enjoyable evening and made performing for them a pleasure.

Throughout the year, monologues and mimes were performed with zest. Both these forms of performing arts were—no doubt—top of the bill with a majority of the drama students.

On behalf of the students from lower school drama I would like to thank Miss Daly for her dedication and patience throughout the year.

Keith Kavanagh.

The Art Extravaganza also proved to be a success with a variety of work on display from various Practical and Creative areas in the curriulum. Year 9 and 10 drama students again provided entertainment in the form of street theatre, inclusive of Dolls, police men and women and a brilliant performance of mime performed by Paul Hayward.

The visit of a professional mime artist to the College to provide students with an opportunity to view quality mime performance skills benefitted drama students in lower school as we were able to learn from example and experience.

Year 9 and 10 students are currently working on small plays that will be performed at the end of term 4. These too should prove to be fun and entertaining for all those involved.

THEATRE ARTS (YEAR 11 & 12)

1995 saw many changes for Year 11 and Year 12 students in Theatre Arts. Due to the lack of numbers the Year Elevens and Twelves formed a joint class. This provided an opportunity for both Year groups to share their skills and learn new ways of expressing talents. With this combined talent we have seen many new events spring up in the Bunbury Catholic College Theatre Arts programme.

Firstly, the April first term holidays brought an educational and exciting experience to the lives of 3 students, myself included, Miss Daly and Mrs Johnson as we travelled to Melbourne to take part in the Melbourne Theatre Company Conference which included five days of fun, making new friends, learning and developing skills in acting and the technical side of theatre, shopping, visiting art galleries and radio studios, sight seeing and viewing some professional productions at the Victorian Arts Centre and various other venues in the heart of Melbourne. Some of the productions seen included the opera Rigoletto, Summer of the Seventeenth Doll, All Souls, and The Flying Fruit Circus. During the conference students took part in workshops conducted by professional directors and actors from some of the productions seen. Workshops focused on voice, movement, improvisation, directing, lighting and production and theatre sports. Overall the trip is highly recommended for any enthusiastic young actors.

Secondly, at the end of term two a drama variety night was held for the first time. This event was a chance for all drama students from Years 9 - 12 to showcase their various talents from serious drama to comedy in the form of monologues to mimes. It proved to be an enjoyable evening for all who attended as they were entertained not only by drama students but also Year 10 musicians and Year 11 catering students who provided both music and supper during the interval. Because of the success of this night, I'm sure it will be the beginning of many more held at the College in future years.

Theatre Arts this Year has been interesting and challenging as a course, including mask making, voice work, performing Shakespearian and Greek scenes and producing One Man Shows. A big thankyou goes to Miss Love for her patience and help. Along with her and Miss Daly's guidance some of our Greek masks turned out to be very creative and were displayed at the art extravaganza. Finally 1995 turned out to be a good year for Year 11 and 12 Theatre Arts students in a class of unique and different characters held together by our teacher, Miss Daly.

Andrew Harnett and Miss Daly.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

Ninety Five has been an active and exciting year in the English Department. Students were exposed to high quality, varied and multi-motivational, in-class activities designed to make them functional users of the language, critical participants in all reading events either written, spoken or electronically communicated, and to make them people who could delight in the many wonderful recreational sources accessible to those proficient in the language. (Some even learned to write very long sentences indeed with which to impress their friends and enemies!)

Normal dynamic in-class activities were supplemented by a plethora of exciting extra-mural events. There were drama excursions, poetry readings, debates, Theatre Arts nights, film sessions, writing competitions, workshops by professional performers and visits to live theatre. In fact in Ninety Five English classes were the places to be!

The E Team this year consisted of eight people. It was led by Eugene De Lima, Marathon jogger and guardian of the Really Long Sentences Correction Procedure Association. He was assisted by Louise Ryan and Glenn Wilson moonlighting from Physical Education and Computing, Michelle Daly, dramatist in residence, Karen Flanagan, ever-smiling ace netballer, Craig Doyle, pin-up extraordinaire and legendary waterpolo person, Jacinta Battista, doing for Literature what Van Gogh did for the price of sunflowers, and Gobnait May. (well someone in this department has to be adjectiveless!)

Two of the staff are getting married in January 1996. Louise Ryan will be returning to us next year and Karen Flanagan will be living and working in Perth. Let us make a toast to their future in true English Department style - with words. So raise your voices and say...

May you be happy and prosperous.

May you add to your own esteem and to that of all those you meet.

May you live long and with only such small hardships as improve you.

May your children echo your existence to countless generations.

And may God be with you always!

The English Department would like to thank all staff, students and parents for their help and support throughout the year and to wish them a happy and safe holiday. We would particularly like to wish our Year Twelve Senior English, English Expression and English Literature students every success in their exams and in their future lives.

SOCIAL STUDIES DEPARTMENT

This year the aim of the Social Studies Department was to try and involve the students in additional activities beyond the normal classroom. Now as the year draws to a close, our staff and students are certainly satisfied with their achievements. Students from Years 8 to 12 over the year have taken the knowledge and skills learnt in their lessons far beyond the classroom walls.

The Year 12 History students approached the theme of the 50th Anniversary of World War Two by organising the ANZAC Day ceremony. Through a variety of sources, they enabled the staff and students to reflect meaningfully on the events and horrors of the war through to the jubilation that must have existed when the war finally ended in 1945. The History students played a key role in educating the College about war; a situation that most of our community has not experienced first hand. Hopefully through this ceremony, our school took the necessary time to be thankful for the peaceful Australia we are fortunate enough to live in. Thank you Year 12.

A group of Year 9 students competed in the While most adults would have struggled with some of the questions asked, the results achieved by the students were excellent. Eighty percent of our students achieved either distinctions or credits. Well done to those students who participated.

Students from the Year 10 Unit 5.3 : International Co-operation And Conflict took their study of the Red Cross to a more practical level this year. The students gave up a Saturday morning to participate in the annual Red Shield Appeal. The students saw first hand the respect that the Bunbury Community has for the Red Cross and its work. In just over three hours the students had collected over five hundred dollars for this most worthy cause. Congratulations to all involved.

Four Year 10 students represented Bunbury Catholic College at a conference in Perth in the last week of term two. The conference was on World Poverty. The students spent three days with teenagers from seventy eight other high schools trying to develop a greater understanding of the causes of poverty. Thank you to the students for being excellent ambassadors for our College.

Practical Geography students from Year 11 became involved in the Bunbury City Council's project : On a Sunday morning in July, the students armed with shovels were ferried across to Island 29 at the Big Swamp. For almost three hours the students planted six hundred trees of various species. This exercise then went on to form the basis of many students' major research assignments as part of their Practical Geography course. A top effort from all who participated.

At the beginning of term 3, three teams of Year 12 students entered the Managing The Economy competition. With the aid of computers, the students tried to manage the Australian economy in relation to unemployment, inflation, current account deficit etc. Some students developed a healthy respect for how difficult this task is in reality for our politicians. However, one group indicated great skill in this area and received a distinction for their effort. Perhaps a future Australian treasurer is currently being educated at Bunbury Catholic College.

More recently in this last term, eighty seven students from Years 8 to 10 have been involved in the Asia Wise competition. This competition required the students to research various aspects about Asia. The students approached the task with enthusiasm and certainly it was a joy to witness students working together in the library after school searching for the required knowledge. We eagerly await the results of the students' work which should be back before the end of the year.

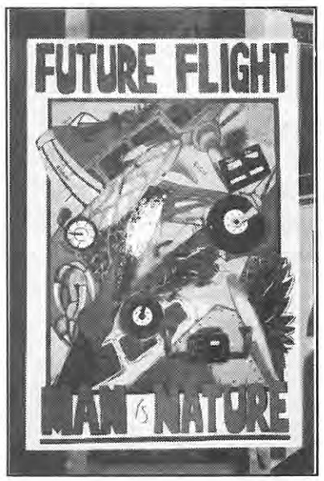

This year has certainly seen the students at Bunbury Catholic College more involved in their Social Studies than ever before. Thank you to all the teachers in the Department for their time and effort inside and outside of the classroom. May 1996 be as rewarding and see our students venture to even greater heights.

Mr Mark Browning
Head of Department.

ART EXTRAVAGANZA

Art Extravaganza

Shortly after Art Extraordinaire this year, Bunbury Catholic College held an exhibition of student art and craft works in the College hall. It had been decided that while the previous inclusion of student work in Art Extraordinaire held certain advantages, the large number of excellent works produced by our students deserved its own exhibition.

Early childhood students contributed both practical and written work to the show. Wooden, metal, plastic and ceramic craftworks were exhibited, as well as artworks in painting, sculpture, printmaking and drawing. As guests arrived, they were greeted by a musical ensemble in the foyer, and served hors d'euvres by our catering students. Throughout the evening, the entertainment continued with wandering street theatre, musical recitals and a mime performance. A number of Primary Schools in the Catholic Community also contributed work, adding yet another dimension to the exhibition. It was a highly successful evening which demonstrated the high standard of creative talent which thrives within B.C.C.

ITS A GOOD LIFE ON THE LEEUWIN

Year 12 student Wesley McGrath turned sailor for a month in July/August aboard the training ship Leeuwin which took part in a tall ships race from Bali to Jakarta, Indonesia.

He joined a crew of 40 trainees aged 16 to 25 who sailed from Broome, motivated by the opportunity to see "other places" and an interest in sailing.

Highlights included Bali bands, climbing the masts, and a 21 gun salute on their arrival in Jakarta. Crews from all around the world took part in a spectacular street parade accompanied by crews from each country's warships. Wesley particularly enjoyed the cultural get together of all crews and learning songs and dances from other countries.

Despite seasickness and claustrophobia, Wesley valued the chance and challenge to share the trip of a lifetime with others in a very different environment. He returned to us wearing a broad smile, an envious tan and very itchy feet to travel again!

Sunset on the Leewuin

YEAR 11 ART CAMP.

During the aftermath of the Biology Camp, our Year 11 students went forth again- this time not to measure, weigh and monitor, but to draw biological, well, ... 'things'.

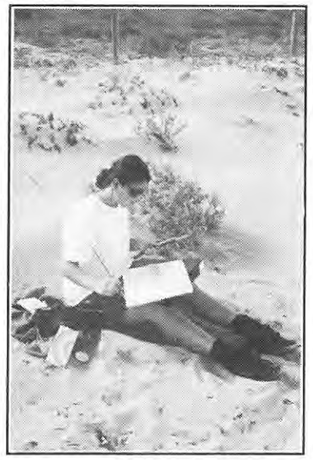

We went relaxing at Araluen Botanical Park, sketching flowers, drawing waterfalls, falling down waterfalls, swimming where no man,woman or Pitts ever swam before. While Robert was swept away downstream, Mrugalski was swept away by the love (or is that lust) of his life. The would-be peace and tranquility was frequently shattered by Margarita's hysterical giggling and an army of ankle-biting, alien scouts who spent the weekend waiting for the arrival of mythical girl guides. (Actually, I think we were the rumoured girl guides—we were just a bit taller than they had imagined). Generally speaking though, we survived quite well and produced magnificent works of art while we were at it.

KOOMBANA BAY ART PROJECT

Do you like summer? Do you like going to the beach? Do you hate those ugly, faded beach shelters around the place?

Well, so did the Year 10 art class, so they decided to do something about it. In groups of three, they took on the challenge of creating designs based on an ocean theme, and painting them onto the beach shelters. Working during class, after school and on weekends, these creative young artists produced colourful, effective paintings. Needless to say, some of them also managed to effectively turn themselves into colourful paintings. However, as a result, the beach shelters have become a feature of Koombana Bay, instead of being a practical but unattractive part of Bunbury Beaches.

Camp art

Early in first term, the Year 12 Art students journeyed northwards to Rockingham to paint, to draw, and to harass locals and penguins alike.

Together with some arty types from Grammar, our students created some interesting life drawings, frolicked with the fauna on Penguin Island and built naked bodies in the sand. The result of all this hard work was a magnificent collection of paintings, sculptures and posters produced from the theme "The Figure in the Landscape".

Paolo

SALVE! MICHIAMO PAOLO FILIPPOZZI E VENGO DALL 'ITALIA! Oh I'm sorry! I'd better translate for you. This means, in English, "HELLO! MY NAME IS PAOLO FILIPPOZZI AND I COME FROM ITALY!

Italy, that little, and beautiful country far far away. I have been asked to write something about my country, about myself, and about the differences between Italy and Australia, and this is exactly what I will do! The main differences between Italy and your country are two: the space and the quantity of people around. You know, in Italy there are about sixty million people packed in a space 20 or 30 times smaller than Australia. So you can understand how shocked I was on my first day here. The first thing I thought was: 'Ehi! Where is everybody? In Italy you can't travel anywhere without finding a house every 200 metres, while here, you can hardly find a house every kilometre. (If you don't believe me, go to Capel, where I lived for two months!!)

Italy! I don't think that many people in Australia (except for the Italians that live here) know much about Italy, so I better tell you something. First of all I have a very important secret to confide in you: in Italy young people are not all soccer fanatics that die if they can't watch their favourite team playing. I must tell you this because this is one of the first things I've been asked (isn't it Daniel?) and I really don't understand why. Well, at least I'm not one of those. Yes, when there is the Soccer World Cup then Italy is truly united, everybody is glued to the television, especially when the national team (la Nationale!) playing. But this is an exception. I think you'd really love Italy.

OK, as I said before, Italy is a bit different from here, but it's great. You can find everything you want! Sport, art, great landscapes, great cities, good meals (pizza!), good girls and, obviously good looking boys (like me!!). The people over there are really nice. First when they talk they look like windmills, because they need to explain themselves with their hands (but maybe if you met me you'd really notice that). Secondly, they smile most of the time, they are really friendly, noisy, some of them really crazy, but, in the end, really good guys. Don't think from what you can occasionally read on the newspaper or hear from the news about Italy that most of the Italians are formed by killers or robbers; that's only a minority. Here in Australia, Italians are quite common, so perhaps you already knew many of these things, otherwise... well now you know!

Last thing—I want only to thank you all because you have been so kind and friendly with a guy that still needs to have a sentence repeated two or three times! I already know that when I'll be back in Italy, at home with all my Italian friends, still I'll miss you all. I'll be back, I swear on my soul. Good bye.

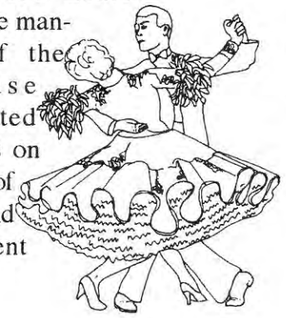

Tina

Hello! My name is Tina and I have been over here in the last 12 months as a German exchange student. Throughout my stay in Australia I have found that going to school over here is a waste of time, especially in the summer when you should be at the beach enjoying the warm weather. The Year 11 Outward Bound was my best experience with school and I got to know everyone a little better. Through the school life I have found that the people are very friendly and crazy over here. Without school I wouldn't have met half of the people I know now and it would have been much more boring here in Australia. Thanks to everyone who put up with me over the year an I hope to see you all again in not so distant future. Bye from me, Tina.

YEAR 12 BALL

A "Heavenly Night" amidst stars, moons hearts and cupids at the Lighthouse Beach Resort, set the scene for our Year 12 Ball. The year group were presented to Bishop Quinn and Mrs McGowan, and Belle and Beau for the evening were Natalie Macri and Josh Milordis. Students, partners, parents and staff then danced the night away to the great sound of Perth band Lethal Weapon. The management of the Lighthouse complimented our students on the standard of their dress and their excellent behavior.

COLLEGE RADIO STATION.

The 25th of September was an important day for Bunbury Catholic College. After 13 months of hard work the Department of English became more than a Department of language but an effective department of communication.

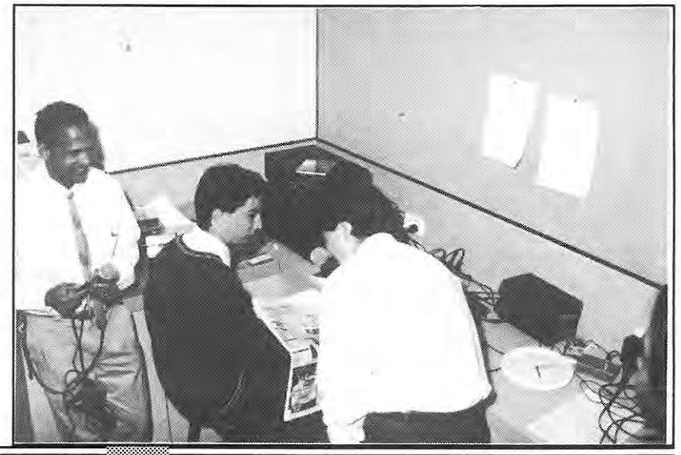

The first offical broadcast was the staff morning prayer and continued with morning broadcasts all week which culminated in a very successful broadcast during Champagnat celebrations on the last day of term.

The radio station reflects the commitment to the school's vision statement of empowering our students to achieve their full potential.

We envisage the station to be used in a wide variety of situations both as a part of the school curriculum-and beyond it.

OUTWARD BOUND

11R

11C

11S

On September 1st, 1995, 140 Year 11's were left in the Walpole wilderness to look after themselves for ten days. Being miles from civilisation didn't help very much, but at least we had some food to eat (that's if you can call a ryveta with vegemite, tuna and creamed corn, food).Well it wasn't all that bad. We soon realised the importance of sticking together would be essential if we were going to survive.After getting off the bus and saying all our goodbyes, we met our instructors. We were told which way to walk and set up camp for the night. That night's dinner was about the nearest we got to cooked meat for the whole trip. But then what can we say, we're roughing it aren't we.These are some of the things we have learned and should be taken on by those Year 11's going on Outward Bound next year:

1) The food isn't really that bad,

2) If you are going to go rabbit hunting, remember to take a rifle (well done Narelle and "Hunter"),

3) Too many cooks can spoil the broth, but what do you do if the broth is already spoiled?

4) When rafting, don't stop paddling when you are paddling upstream,

5) Be prepared for "floaties" in the water.

6) Bringing along the metamucil laxatives is not a good idea (are they Krissy and Jaz?)

Finally, we'd like to thank Miss Ryan, Mr Doyle, Mr Kenny, Mr Selby, Miss Love, Miss Moore, and all other people.

At the thought of another rock eisteddfod Mr Martino was ripping out his full head of hair! After finally coercing Carla Martella to take on the role of being 'in charge' the B.C.C. Eisteddfod got off the ground.

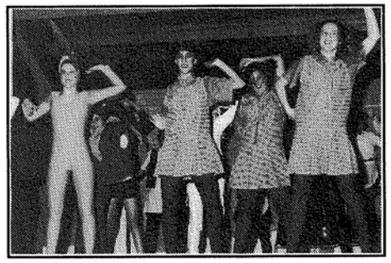

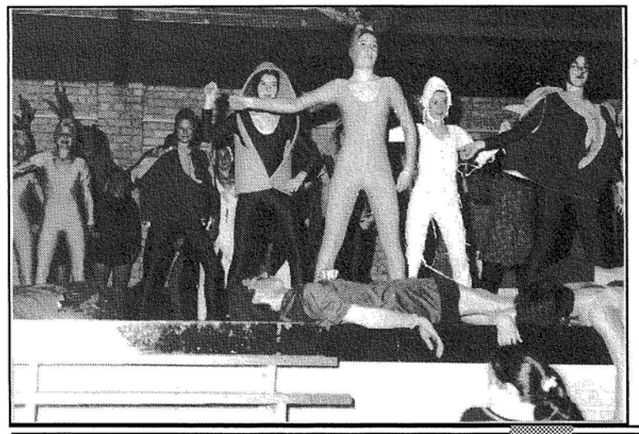

With the help of talented dancers, Donetta Charles, Lisa Patane, Kellie Langridge and Carla choreographed the main amount of the dance. Heather McKernan choreographed the Fruit & Vege's and Nicole Boothey, the Proteins.

After all the gruelling (yeh right!) training sessions we headed up to Perth on a school bus full of very sleepy performers. Our arrival in Perth wasn't without causing chaos amongst the traffic and drivers. We then progressed to the Entertainment Centre. With the help of Carla's persuasive manner, we all headed for the Carillion to, of course, wreak more havoc!!

Heading back we practised (yet again) on the lawn. Everyone headed in to backstage to hear screams and yells (just kidding! it's only Mrs Downes, her gel and comb!) Finally everyone was ready for the Channel 10 shoot. We performed well and went back to the changerooms to get undressed. We stayed around the centre and gradually everyone had their make-up done professionally by Mrs Cunningham. Again we were ready after all the screams of "I can't find my carrot!" or "Can someone please help me with this @#^*! zip!". Mrs Martella and her fabulous team of chief sewers did us proud. The Ghoulies were finished practising their 'pelvic thrust' and we were ready...(this time really ready!)

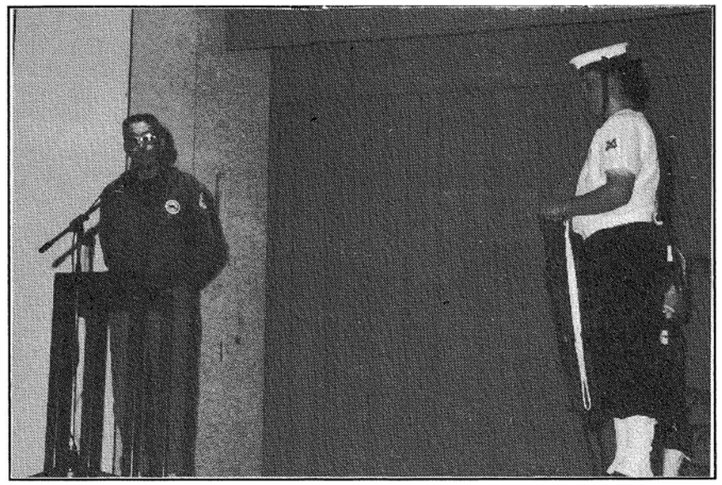

Penrhos finished their performance and we headed on stage only to hear the faint good lucks from Bunbury High. Everyone was in place and as the curtain went up the adrenalin started pumping! The cameraman was getting kicked by all the dancers and of course he managed to get some butts on national television (Natalie! Nicole!) After we finished (still the adrenalin was pumping!) we headed off to get changed. We went backstage to watch the other schools on the monitors. We wished Bunbury High good luck as they performed brilliantly.

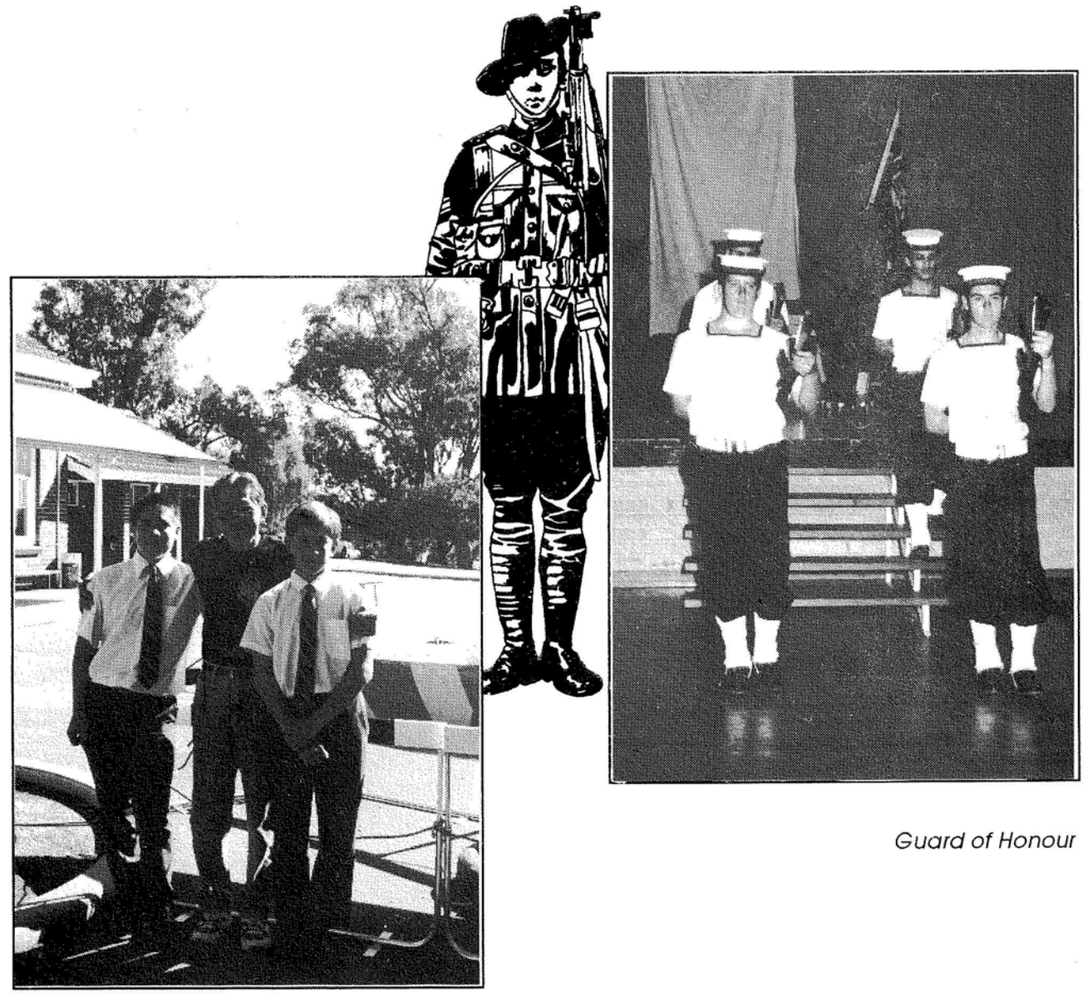

At the end we made one final appearance on stage as all the schools come together. Mandurah came third with Penrhos second and Bunbury High first. It was great to see a Bunbury school to get placed (even though it wasn't us, we were proud).

'Till next year (Mr Martino hopes not!).....

YEAR ELEVEN BIOLOGY CAMP

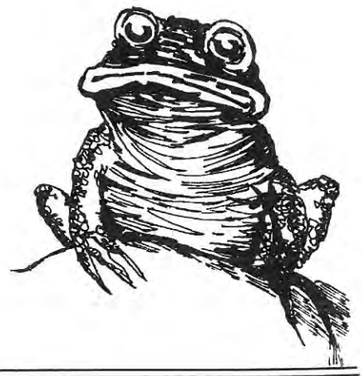

On Friday the 22nd of October the Year Eleven Biology class went to Kerriley Park to participate in 3 days of studying and analysing surrounding areas.

With haunting rumours that we would be up to 3 a.m. every night in the back of our minds we set off, sceptical as to the outome of the weekend.

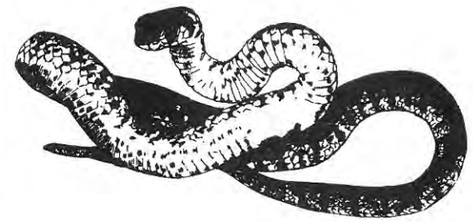

Thinking the first day was easy we did it with a breeze. However, by the second night, clashes of personalities were "abundant". We started Saturday thinking the dam was a lovely place to be but after falling into the water our thoughts were focused on how good it would be to be back at Sandy Ridge.

After a very casual mass with Kambo quite involved we followed white jeans and thongs back to our dorms to start an all night vigil of analysing the dam and swamp communities. With two hours sleep due to excessive coffee intake we checked our traps only to find insects. Spending Sunday at Latorite Ridge we were all falling asleep.

Overall we would like to thank Mr Stewart and Mrs Van Der Wiele for taking time out to help us.

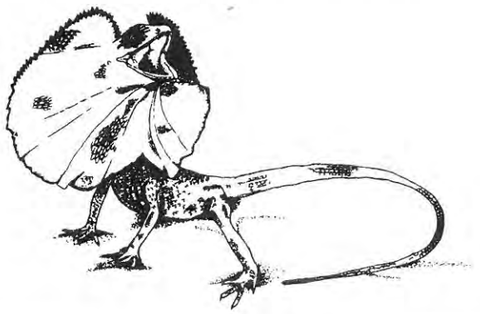

GOODWILL EXCHANGE 1995

Meeting with the Mayor of Setagaya

During the October School holidays Tarryn Ardille, Piotr Baizert, Simon Kobelke, Michael Byrne, Rebecca Panetta, Simon Panetta, Kellie Piacentini and Joelene Sheridan travelled to our sister city Setagaya in Japan. This was the first Goodwill visit organised by the Bunbury City Council to Setagaya for the youth of Bunbury. The two other students with us were Salina Guppy (C.S.H.S) and Susan Evans (N.M.S.H.S) Mrs Pauline Vukelic (Chairman of the Bunbury - Setagaya Sister City Committee) and I accompanied the group.

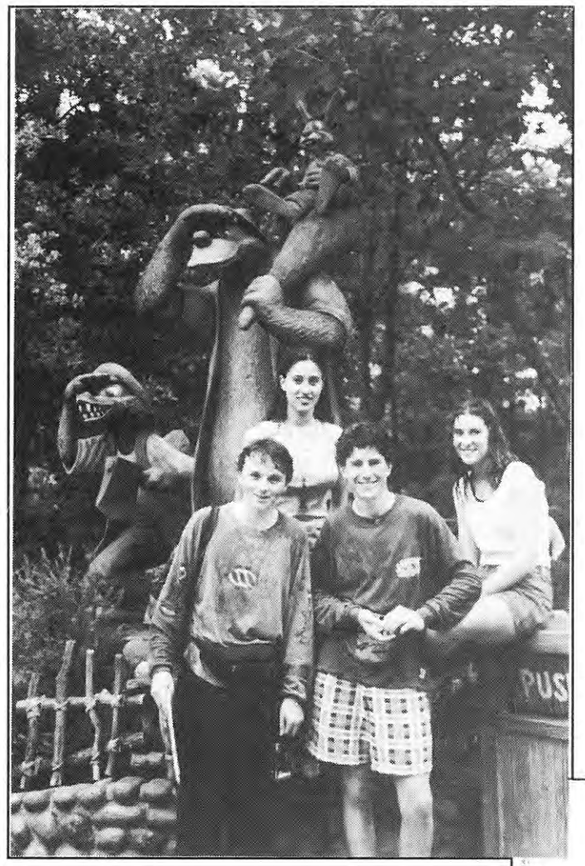

Making Rice Snails

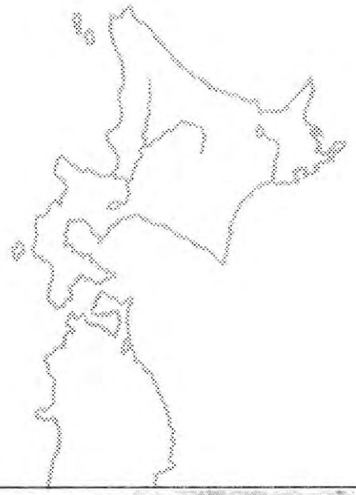

Students met with the mayor and city council, stayed with host families for two nights, spent half a day at a Japanese school, relaxed at Disneyland and went sightseeing in Hiroshima and Kyoto. During this they negotiated subways, bullet trains, ate with chopsticks and got by with very little knowledge of Japanese.

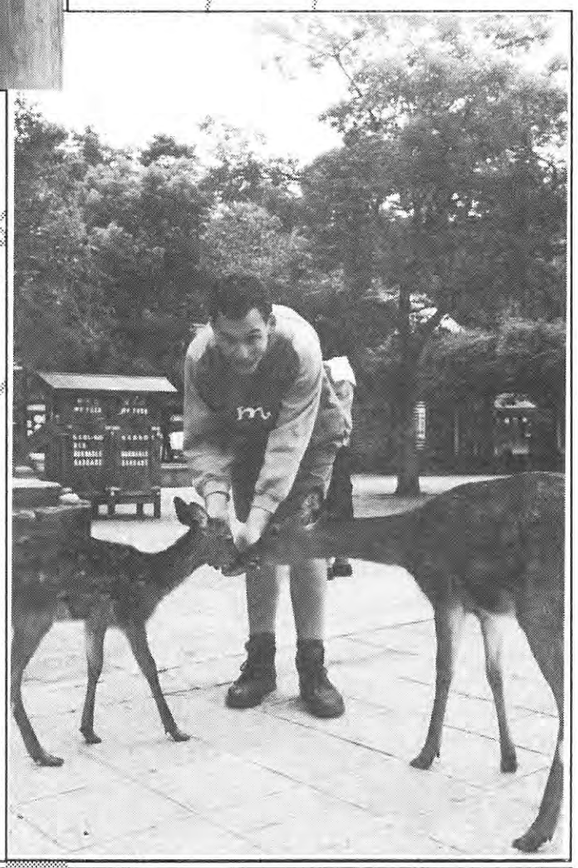

It was a pleasure to travel with them.

TRACEY'S HERE

It was the day before Christmas, the sky was stormy black
The wind was blowing fiercely, Tracey was coming down the track.
The lightning shrieked, the thunder roared,
As the wind blew harder, down the rain poured.

The windows were banging as loud as they could,
The house was clanging like a steam train should.
Everything around me was all so scary,
So I knelt down and prayed like Mary....

I stood at the window and opened my eyes slow,
Only to see everything destroyed that the wind could blow.
It was the most horrible sight you could ever see,
Nothing left standing, not even a tree.

The wind was still blowing with forceful fright
And now it was worse going into the night.
I could hear the house being battered around,
The clanging of tin hitting the ground.

As I sat under the dining room table
Trying to keep calm by telling a fable,
But to make it even worse,
The lights turned off as I cried and cursed.

The night was very long and very scary,
But in the morning I was alive, thanks Mary.
The wind and rain had nearly gone.
And out the window the sun shone.

I went outside and looked around,
I was devastated at the things I found.
Everything was torn to shreds,
From childrens' dolls to linen beds.

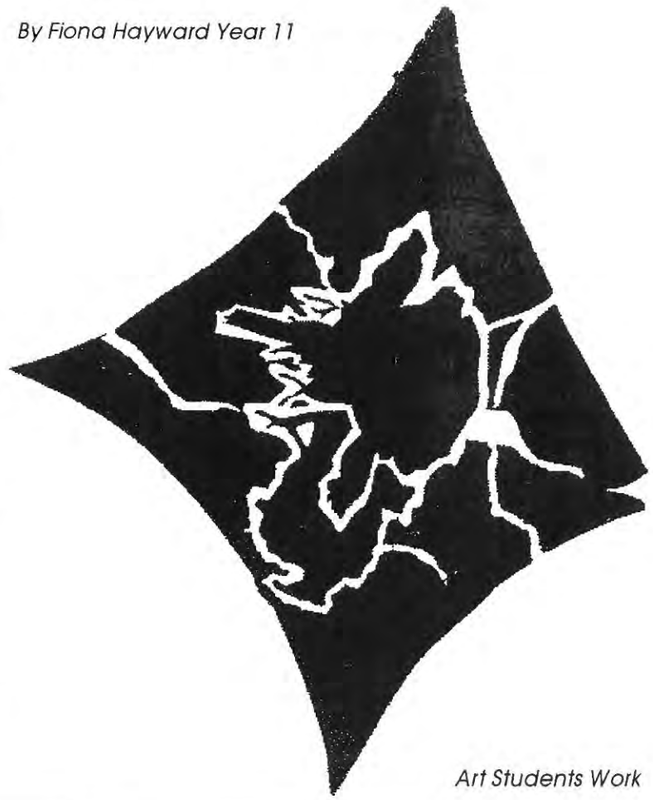

As I stood there and my heart was crying,
In front of me a baby bird was lying.
It had died falling out of a tree,
Now I think we were lucky, weren't we?

ROOTS OF WISDOM

In these green surroundings, a tree of knowledge stands
Planted deep in wisdom, and tendered by our hands
It's branches reaching outwards, seek a light thats bright and clear
We all know from experience, there is hope and guidance here
This tree has a purpose, making it stand out from the rest
Praise crowning success, when it knows we've done our best.

SELF

FLY: ODE TO OUTWARD BOUND

Words and Music by Craig Martin

Verse: In the dawn, we struggle to our knees, we try,
And we find the sun is blazing in our eyes,
We walk to find the breakfast energy spent,
And we eat to fill our stomach to content.
Chorus: We either run and run and jump and jump and die,
Or we run and run and jump and jump and fly.
Verse: In the pouring rain, we hike to our camp,
And the pain from walking flows into a cramp,
All our peers stop to help us to our feet,
So we travel back to our walking beat.
Chorus: We either run and run and jump and jump and die,
Or we run and run and jump and jump and fly.
Bridge: To quit on us is to die,
To trust everyone is to be alive.
Leadbreak:
Chorus: We either run and run and jump and jump and die,
Or we run and run and jump and jump and fly.
Verse: At night, we sit around the burning embers,
We prepare to fight the next day ahead,
With the help of everyone we go to sleep,
To revitalize our bodies aching feet,
Chorus: We either run and run and jump and jump and die,
Or we run and run and jump and jump and fly.
Ending: At the start we go we listen we try,
But at the end we stop, we listen, we cry.

Your love is my reward, I am your prize
You are what you ar,e so open your eyes.
The moon is the moon and I am the cheese
The eye does the looking but the mind is what sees.
Take me now cause I'm going soon
I am the cheese and the moon is the moon.
I'm so confused with the way I feel
What is what when nothing is real?
The moon and the cheese, we're all one,
What is left when all has been done?
I am the moon, the cheese decomposed,
Living is easy when your eyes are closed.
Stay cool - you won't melt away,
Do what you want not what they say.
The moon is the moon and I am free,
I am what I am, not what they want me to be.

BROKEN HEART

She rushed into the bedroom, and quickly locked the door.
Flung herself on the bed,
and cried and cried and cried
She thought about all the pain and hurt she goes through Only to be left feeling hated, loathed and despised.
Yet he never noticed the damage and suffering.
Just arrogantly thought she was worth nothing.
All the care and love
she always offered.
All the trust that she had in him.
Only to find out that he wanted her.
When he was feeling miserable and dim.
She never really loved that man,
just desperate for somebody.
Too bad her choice was so bad,
got a man who loved everybody.
After he painfully took her dignity
Then got a job
and decided to depart
The only thing he selfishly left her was that of a broken heart.

PAIN

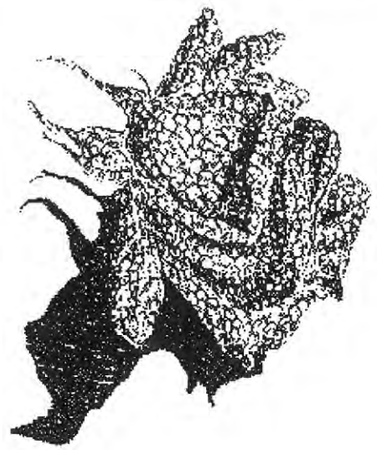

On my own, I stand amongst the black cloud,
The lightning flashes around me,
Burning me, striking me, hurting me.
The white clouds have decreased in size,
The black cloud swelling whilst they shrink.
I walk through as the black cloud begins to burst,
All it's evil pouring out on me.
I cry, I can stand it no longer,
My body still lives on,
But my heart breaks and dies in despair.

Love

LOVE IS LIKE THE SKY,
THE CLOUDS, THE RAIN,
FALLING TO CREATE NEW LIFE,
WITHIN OUR HEARTS, WITHIN OUR PAINS.
LOVE IS THE LIMIT,AN EVER LASTING HIGH.
IT WILL STAY WITH US FOREVER, UNTIL THE DAY WE DIE.
LOVE IS LIKE THE OCEAN,
THE CALMNESS OF THE SEA.
THE WAVES WHICH RISE SO HIGH,
AND STRETCH TO ETERNITY.
LOVE IS LIKE A BIRD,
FLYING THROUGH THE AIR,
ONLY FALLING ONCE OR TWICE,
ONLY WHEN WE DARE.

SUMMER

The sea is blue - green
Small children play happily
Sea gulls fly overhead.

SPRING

The cold is now gone
Sunshine reigns over small towns
People come outside.

WINTER

The snow is falling
Unhappy people stay inside
During afternoon.

AUTUMN

The sun disappears
Trees are adorned with colour
Days grow cold and dark.

THE FRIEND

It means such a lot in this day,
To have someone to turn to and say,
I think it's just grand
How you understand
In darkness you shine a bright ray.
When life seems to be less than fair,
And it takes all the strength you can spare,
Through ups and downs
And smiles and frowns
You always prove that you care.
Whatever I promise or plan,
You're there when I don't think I can,
In providing support
You never fall short
You cheer like my very best fan.
You make an impression on me,
Making me feel what I want I can be,
Standing out from the rest
You're one of the best
You've given new value to the word me.
You've helped me through times good and bad,
Through any trouble I've had,
You've always been there
To show you care
For that I am really glad.

WORLD WAR TWO

World War One began and ended.
Well, that is what everyone thought.
Serious issues were left unmended.
So again they argued and fought.

Eastern Europe was where it began.
Then it emerged across the globe.
It belonged to any man.
And the spies were out to probe.

War broke out on September the first.
In the year 1939.
Six years long they battled it out.
Until Great Britain drew the line.

Thousands of crosses show dead men still.
Fighting for Freedom, only to die.
Crosses everywhere, scattered the hills.
And that is no short of a lie.

Innocent people lost their lives.
And families all over the world.
Were torn apart-husbands kids and wives.
From the bullets and bombs they hurled.

For fifty years we celebrate now.
That the war has finally ceased.
To our patrons we respect and bow.
But those dead, we forget the least.

FIRST EXAMS - I SURVIVED TO TELL THIS TALE !

The first exams were a shock to the year eights of 1995. Having to study regularly was a pain. The thought of an hour and a half of exams was frightening. The days passed quickly and soon we were sitting in our class waiting for the exam papers to be handed out. The exams went forever. When they were over, everyone was relieved. However, the same question probably passed through everyone's mind a million times- will I pass or fail ??

A DESTROYED GIFT

Long ago the earth came to be,
It gave us it's power,
It destroyed our misery.
Life was created,
We came out of the blue,
Along with the fish,the birds
Other animals too.
It was supposed to be a gift to us,
A gift to give us life,
But that mattered not,
For technology we strived.
Down came the trees,
Extinct the animals became,
With buildings and cement,
Our earth was soon maimed.
Pollution filled the air,
Sewage filled the lakes,
Acid rain poured down, yet another mistake.
Is this how we want life to be?
With no natural landscapes, or animals to see?
All animals in cages,
Sad looks in their eyes,
And with this expression
We let them painfully die.

11R'S OUTWARD BOUND EXPERIENCE

Mrs McGowan put us in a position
That we basically had no say in
We had to spend 10 days in the bush
And eat all our food from a tin.

As soon as we stepped off the bus
Fiona slipped in the mud,
We got introduced to Mel,
And we knew she'd be our bud.

We trekked for 3 days
From camp to camp,
Learnt how to put up a bivvy
But most of us got damp.

We went bush bashing ,
Craig navigating the track,
Hayden the human bulldozer
Never looked back.

Lauren, Laura, Carly,
Sang a mountain song,
Owen and Michael complained
But it moved us all along.

We had to wade our way through a river,
Aleesha fell in,
Erin didn't dig the dunny deep enough
And God wasn't that a sin.

Russel and Joseph helped us cross the river,
But then we discovered the log,
We ate TVP
And got some some sort of wog.

Hot chocolate caused Paul to get on a high,
Doyle was engulfed by a massive wave,
Pikey was the first to hurl through the river,
Now wasn't that brave?

Tim was proud cause he made us all custard
And blew up the rafts,
While we sat around the fire,
Avoiding the draughts.

Kirsty makes a good dunny trail,
Nicola burnt her shoe in the fire,
Niall and Piotr's damper
Couldn't get any higher.

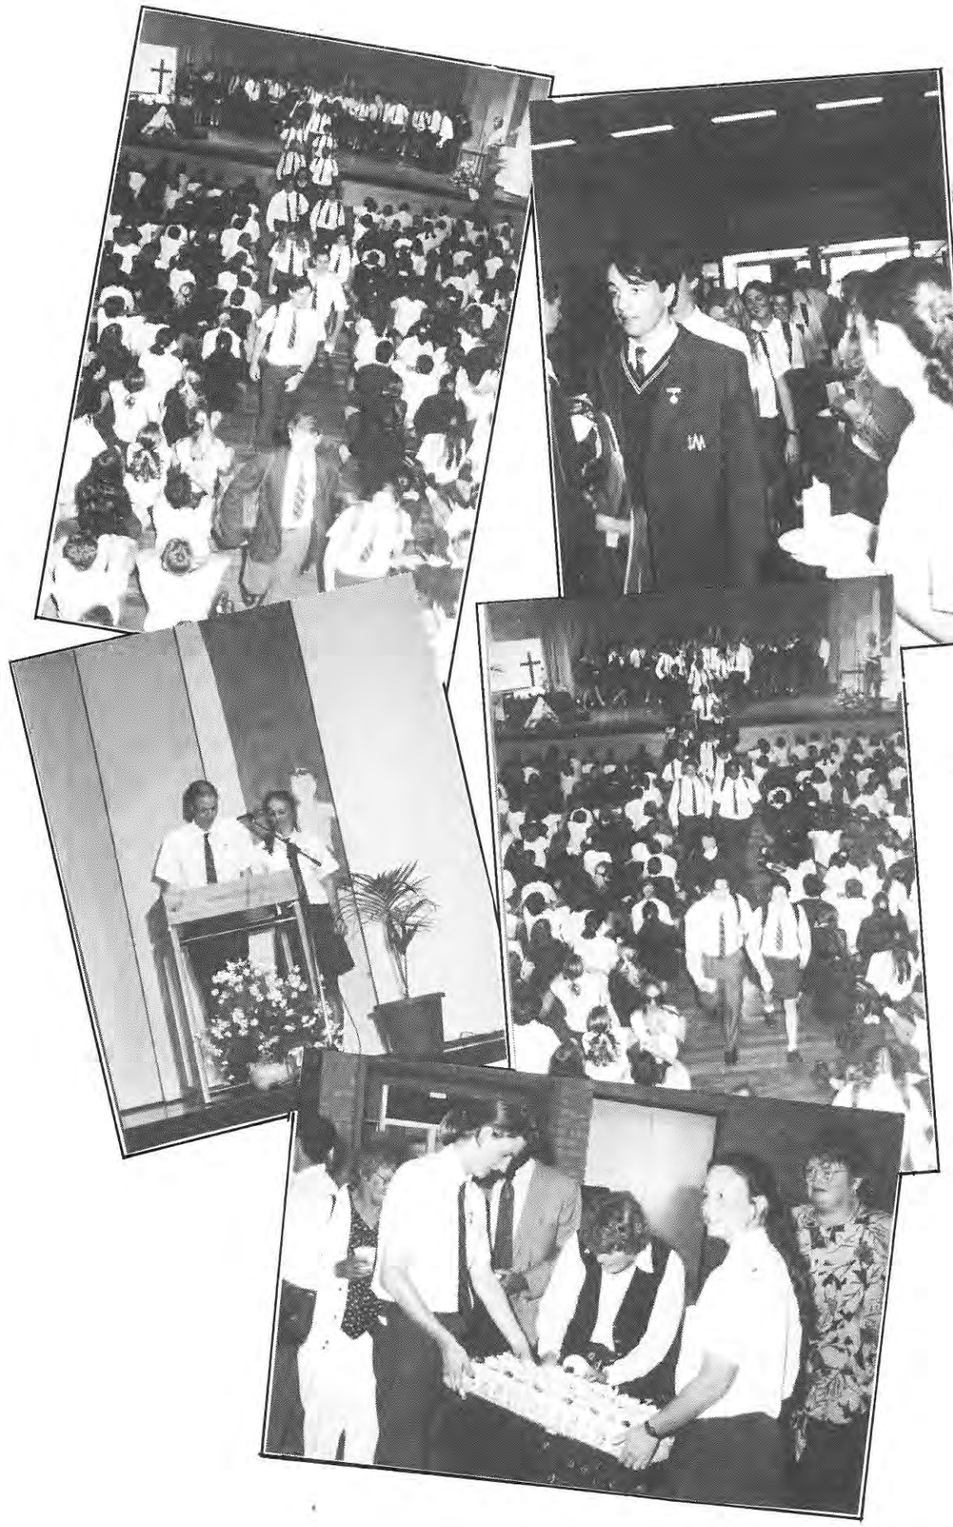

We went rock climbing,
Tarryn was the first girl to reach the top,
Miss Ryan came back to our camp,
So she could taste test our glop.

Iza, 'Relle and Linda,
Are number 1 bivvy-put-er-up-erers,
Our most commonly used words,
Consist of ouch, truck and shivers?

On the last day we had a 4 K hike,
Then bid farewell to the bush,
Got changed into REAL clothes
And got on the bus with a push.

We had a long,quiet bus ride home,
Not having breakfast we began to regret,
Together we dwelled on our experience,
These memories we'll never forget.

CO-ORDINATOR'S REPORT

Farewell to the Class of '95! Each year group brings its own character and unique approach to life as a gift to the school. This year group has certainly left its mark in the way they participated in all they had to, but were also prepared to question and challenge where appropriate. Not all have finished that started with them. This is normal as each of us finds our own departure points in life. Those who have left are creating their own unique destinies and now it is time for those who have persevered to the end to pursue their own.

It was encouraging to see the leaders in the group grow in their understanding of the role that they have been elected to. Not all found the job easy or that it was compatible with what they wanted to do at times which is all a part of the learning process. To Mel and Andrew, thank you for your efforts in representing the students of Year 12. It was good to work with people who did not get distracted by the glory or status of the position. As much as it could, your contribution, along with that of the other leaders went beyond just being there. This would be a very good time to note the contribution that Mrs Hogan and Mrs Hamlett made in supporting and encouraging our leaders. Thank you to them. My job was a lot easier to do because of your efforts.

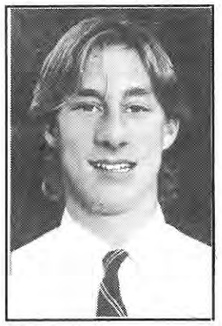

Thank you to the homeroom and support staff. They know who they are and what the contributions they have made are. They are all people who were prepared to do the bit extra to make things work.

We look forward to year 12, 1995 visiting us in the years to come so we can see the results of our work and efforts.

Allen Zappelli (Zappa) Join the Police force so I don't get anymore speeding fines. "Speed Kills".

We started the year off with a one day retreat in term one, the focus being Christs final Journey. Students formed groups and presented each stage of the cross at different locations around the school. We travelled to each station to watch and hear about the final hours.

The first set of exams were met with the usual nervous anticipation seen in Year. 11 students. The lead up to Outward Bound and the course itself ran smoothly. We were congratulated on the way the students conducted themselves whilst on course.

Our final day of retreat occurred in term four. Here we looked at the community and put action to our words. Students went out and helped the elderly, the very young and community groups by doing jobs such as gardening, other students made toys, fixed toys, cooked food and prepared a mass booklet. It was wonderful to see so much enthusiasm to help others, shown by the students.

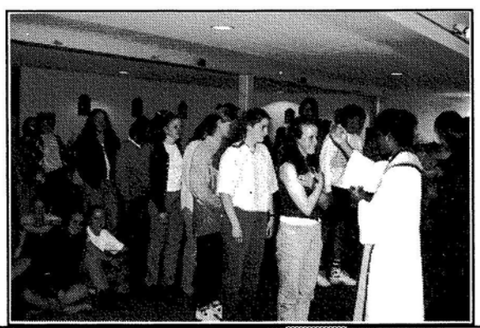

I hope all students have a restful holiday and maintain their co-operative spirit in the future.

Good Luck

Their homeroom teacher Mrs Cairns
They follow her cause she has the plans
This is 11C and the dudes that are in it
And here is their Outward Bound story and the fun that came with it
Catherine Green first cooked our grub
Lewis was always found in the scrub
Ben Halligan was number one
Sonja O'Connor led the undie run
Meghan Dwyer went out with a "SPLASH"
Natasha Burek got a really red rash
Katherine Baltyn was "The Sarge"
Trudi Carr was always in charge
Hi, Ho, Hi, Ho, Phil Hynes went on Jasmin Cunningham had to carry a tonn
Charise Falkous had Glandular Fever
Holly, Paul, Alan we were glad to see ya
Lisa Patane was Mother Therese
Renae Panetta counted down the days
Simon Panetta was Forrest Gump
Brianne Hastie "Watch out for the Stump"
Andrea Clohessey wore shades and was called Puddles
Jennie Ralston had no troubles
Matthew Rolfe just sang songs all day
Mr Kenny tried his hardest to stay out of our way
Michael Byrne missed out cause he didn't come OUTWARD BOUND WAS HEAPS OF FUN.....
(Outward Bound Theme Song)
HI HO HI HO
Hi, Ho, Hi, Ho it's off to work we go
With a shovel and a pick
And a Hiking stick
Hi, Ho, Hi, Ho, Hi, Ho, Hi, Ho

Our homeroom, otherwise known as, the great 11L.
Spent 10 days in the bush, pure Outward Bound hell.
Henry our instructor was a really bad singer.
While Brendan tagged Louise 'the great Flyin' Winger'.
Louise Sanday just wanted to run for the phone.
Nathan would rather go hard than go home.
Naomi spent most of her time on her bum.
Delene & Chantelle were trying to have fun.
Kathy, that laugh & those hilarious faces
Jennelle dragged behind, but kept up with the paces.
Kim & Anna were the Vegos from hell.
While Lauren contemplated she missed the school bell.
Eamon led the way. Our Enegizer men
Daniel & Mat followed with the rest of the clan.
Where there was food there was guaranteed Andy.
When it came to navigating, Aaron T came in handy.
Natalie flew down the old abseil tree.
And following her down was none other than Bree.
Emma and Janelle kept the group in pace.
Linda couldn't come (with her nose out of place).
Jeannie, with her smile kept the class out of gloom.
Matthew the snob, went with another homeroom.
But now Outward Bound & Yr 11 are through.
Will start again next year and begin all anew.

TEACHER: Mrs Wendy Morris

Room 15 is where it all began
"Outward Bound" here we come
Mrs. Morris happily said goodbye
As Miss "R for Rabbit" Moore started to cry.
Sergeant Major Donnan willingly led the way
Rebecca Gear, at home she certainly would stay
Knickers and Krusta didn't stop laughing
And on the second night Dillon couldn't stop barfing.
Byron/Suckworth/Barnsy carved a track with his face
To our leaders Dan and Chris we were a sure disgrace
Brett lead the dousing of the flames
Which shows our boys really have no shame.
Giumelli cooked up a feast everynight
With a bit of Byron's Toe-Jam, but it was still alright
Sticks,Wembly B1 or TP
Or you can just call her Emily
Clarky was the Queen of certain connotations
We feel this one needs no more explanation
Marie's breath was taken away
Nyree's perfumed odour, we feel, is here to stay
Mog lead the crew astray one late night
Their apology to us was certainly a sight
Damo started the horizontal bivey boot scoot
We also have suspicion that he hid the chocolate loot
Margy and Rita were like a married couple

Room 8 is our place, 11R is our name
Compare us to the rest and we'll put em all to shame
Mr. Rubie thought we were normal, but that was our intent
But after term one, he packed us in and went
Now with Mrs. Hamlett in lead, 11R is the best and you'll soon see what I mean
With our different talents, we were really quite a team
One of our homeroom reps, is the one and only Kirsty
With the amount she talks, were suprised she ain't thirsty
Our other reps name is Joseph and he is really quite Unlike Relle who laughs and starts a riot
From the day Pikey came, we knew he weren't all there
When it comes to music Craig shows a lot of flare
Linda's not afraid to speak her mind
As for Izza, she's just plain kind
Owens always late for school "His bike broke down"
Mrs. Hamlett just nods and gives him a frown
Carly, Laura, Lauren, Nicola and Kelly all sit together
Gossiping about everything except the weather
Niall appears to be quiet, but Outward bound proved he's not Michael, Hayden and Russel sit up the back not doing a lot?
In the October holidays Piotr took off to Japan
If anyone can make custard Tim sure can

Here we all are

Bivey space it seems was causing all the trouble
Michael Uey was our main M-man lead us through the jungle like we were back in Nam
Killin is his name, in the flash blue coat
Was honoured with a song, and a variety of jokes
Kam decided to rest his patellas
We missed him on camp so say the fellas
Shannon and Anna decided to join 11s
With Selby in the lead we wish them the best Pittsy supplied us with a dog story or two Renee was the rock climber and battled the way through Sarina supplied massages for Dan and Chris at night
Joe the two time M dude made sure everything was alright
Rachel was the walker who charged along the track
God knows how she did it with the back pack on her back
Amanda went back to join yr. 10 but we still see her smiling every now and then
We have come to the end of our Outward Bound poem
And the majority agree we were happy to come home

Fiona, Aleesha, Tarryn and Erin are the "twangs", private joke
Their advice, is Don't swallow your nose you might choke".
We had a class plant called George, originally Ezmerolda
But he died when flung by his roots over someone's shoulder
What else can I say but 11R rocks the house and rolls it out
'Cause standing out from the rest is what we're all about

YEAR 10

1995 has been a happy and productive year in Year Ten. The students approached their lives at the school and their studies vigorously with persistence and achieved considerable success. They played basketball, netball, hockey, cricket, football and foursquare with energy and greeted the new radio station with active enthusiasm. Their favorite occupation was sitting around and talking! They would do this anywhere. They sat on the ground, the steps, the grass, the retaining walls!

Year Ten Team Work

Did we win?

Anywhere the sun shone, groups of Year Tens congregated to talk. Our intrepid S.R.C. became tireless campaigners for outdoor seating for the area. Their efforts were rewarded when Stan Perry and Frank Nicholas created three big picnic tables. Stan and Frank, those tables have never been unoccupied since you made them. Future generations of Year Tens will continue to sing your praises.

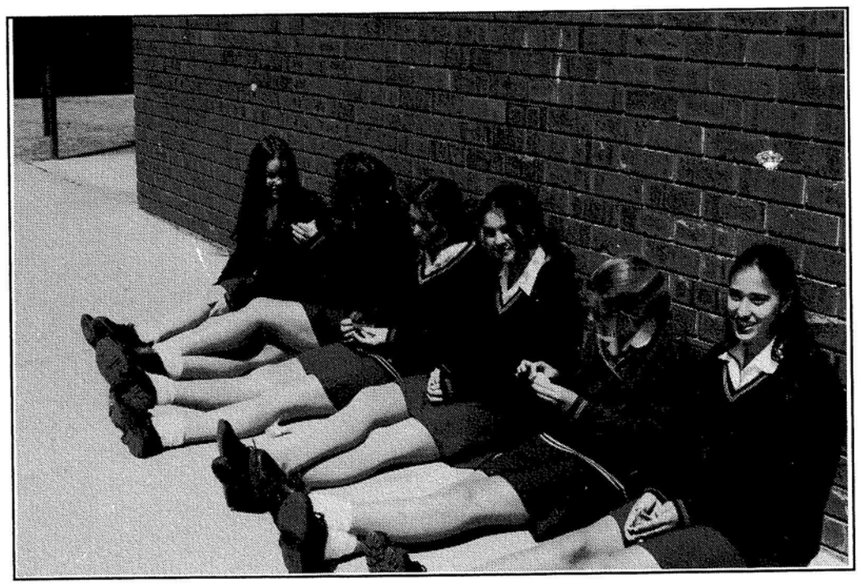

Two Retreats were held in 1995. One, in May was led by the Youth Disciples Mission Team and one in September was led by The Edge Christian drama group. On both occasions Year Tens showed their greatest strength as a group - their ability to give a hearing to whoever seeks to speak to them. This I consider to be a great talent because they tend to not prejudge the views of others. The group participated vigorously in the Retreats, especially in the drama activities. The Year Tens participated in T.A.F.T. seminars on; Young Citizens and The Law, Taking Responsibility for One's Own Health, and Being Informed About the Dangers of Recreational Drug Taking. Our thanks go to Neil Fisher , police liaison officer, Merry Robertson, Women's Health and Fitness, and to Mrs Maria DeLima. At the end of Term two, Year Tens played hosts to the Grade Sevens from St. Joseph's Primary and from Our Lady of Lourdes, Dardanup, for a very enjoyable afternoon of Theatre Sports. We all had a wonderful time, though at one point it did look as if we had lost Mr. Fewster who became swamped by squealing Grade Sevens demanding lollies!

The homeroom teachers and myself would like to wish the Year Tens great success in their future whether it be in Upper School at B.C.C. or at another high school , at T.A.F.E. or in the workforce. It has been a great pleasure to share 1995 with such an openminded group of young learners.

God Bless

Just sitting around

Life in Mr. Johnson's homeroom this year was, well, nothing short of weird. We'd wait at the door at 8:35am, ready to begin yet another school day. Mr. Johnson would arrive at 8:40am and open the door. But wait, some days it wouldn't be Mr. Johnson. Instead, Mr. Martino or Mr. Stewart would roll up, and unlike the man himself, expect us to be ready sitting down and quiet long before Mr. Johnson would. I would be sitting there, ready to start another day, while the 'cliquey' groups of our homeroom would be chatting about anything from the latest motorbike on the market to what was on the box last night.

Mr. Johnson would call us together and we'd either begin listening to the morning prayer or the Bulletin's thoughts. He'd then go through the Bulletin (telling someone to be quiet along the way). Then we'd talk while Mr. J selected some poor kid to go on 'official business'. Then the bell would ring. Yet another morning homeroom in Room 23 over and off we all go to period 1.

In 10M, we are all different, but we all have the same fun, stirring and happiness. Mrs. May sometimes gets lost in the crowd like the bulletin does on her desk, always with an inspiring story. Now Bianca is the blonde up the front, whilst Kylie takes in the fresh air. Jodie and April loudly talk about guys, whilst Angela gets out of hospital and runs the 3000m in two seconds. Katie skips three weeks due to Glandular Fever or laziness? Therese scoots around with Joanne chasing her to talk. Dege threatens Sonia that he would bury her sausage dog in his dog coffin. Rooney, Michelle and Sonia arrange to meet at the old oak tree at 3:05pm. Richard smiles from Home Ec with a big Pavlova. Michael plays Hockey in Canberra, Ben plays his guitar. Keith retrieves his pants after the 'masters dacked him. Down the front Tamra grieves, Rebecca and Sarah gossip then we hear the roar of laughter from Lynchie, Adam, Scott, Skoda and Jay about Scott's latest joke. Jay, Adam and Richard are arguing about footy. Ben and John silently sit up the back. To conclude, if you have never had a morning homeroom experience with 10M...You ain't seen nothin'.

Mighty Athletic Year Ten

CO-ORDINATORS REPORT

1995 has been a year that has come and gone and somewhere in the middle, 150 year nine students will never be the same.

With year nine comes the pressures of growing up, establishing new friends, exam week, more difficult subjects and constant teacher changes. This year the nines quickly adapted themselves to the changes and proved to be a very enthusiastic group of students.

Parent interviews and meetings held over the four terms were very well attended. I believe parent involvement to be very beneficial to your sons or daughters' schooling.

This year saw for the first time a field trip to Perth for Social Studies and the attendance of our students at performances given in Bunbury by different theatre companies. Both of the above proved to be very valuable and hopefully will be continued in 1996.

This years' Religious Education program gave us the opportunity to lead the students through two retreat days. The first of these dealt with the concerns for the needy in the Bunbury community, while the second retreat day focused on the students own ability to make the correct choices for themselves.

I would like to thank all homeroom teachers and support staff for the care and concern they have shown the students and the support given to me.

9K - Mrs Keall

9A - Mr Doyle

9C - Mr Chipchase

9R - Mr Robb

To Miss Daly may I extend a big thankyou to yourself and all homeroom Reps for their time and effort that has been put into the Year 9 S.R.C. While I am thanking people I would also like to thank Miss Pat McDonagh whose help and guidance over the year has been invaluable

To the students of year nine, all the best for 1996 in year ten and for whatever the future has in mind for you. May I also wish everyone a Merry Christmas and a safe holiday.

The class of 9A

The bell is ringing
Mr. Chipchase is singing
With a gaze saying things will get gory!
The girls attempt flirting
But the boys are all hurting
Cause Chipchase is telling a story
'A fishing story'
He says with a smile
We open our books and then our file
The boys draw and squiggle
The girls just giggle
While others just laugh as they stare
As the aeroplane zooming
Over girls who are grooming
And landing in Chipchase's.....hair?
We all turn our heads
And wish we were dead
While Chipchase just roars like a bear
And just to add more
To this big pile of gore
Mr. Downes strolls on in through the door
'Goodmorning class'
I have something important to say
The school uniform
Is being worn
In an awful and untidy way
The girls fill with panic
The boys all go frantic
While some give an innocent smile
The boys tie up their hair
The girls let their hems down
Their jewelery is thrown in their file
But someone still frowns
And that's Mr. Downes
Who retreats to a rumble outside
We no longer hide
And with our mouths open wide
We yawn as we want to leave hell
Am I going mad?
The ringing is bad
But wait, it just might be the bell
Some run to mum
Others to freedom
It's 3 o'clock and all's well
(Hey it's not my fault! There aren't that many words that rhyme with 'bell' you know besides fell and sell and.....

Kelly Reid is one of her mates
Olivia can hold a tune on the flute
Ashley thinks he's kinda cute
Beth Williams blonde and quite tall
Lesley Sharp, craziest of us all
Adrian Humble thinks he's tough but Davina Italiano can show him some stuff
Craig has to be the biggest pain
Josh doesn't get it .....again
Jeremy is always looking for a fight
Ben or is it Dom has a problem with sight
Jamie Warburton loved by all
Shane Olsen cute and so small
Bree Briant thinks Emma is really neat
So she kicks poor Cody out of his seat
Janene always chats up the young lads
Kelly Lake, the model is up with the fads
Lorenza writes a letter about 'Reid Man'
Mervyn thinks he's hot, so he turns on the fan
Alex is the next Maradona to be
While Chris prefers to play footy
The class spunks always receiving a wave or a wink are Leigh, Adrian M and Danny (or so they think)
Jason or Fish- his basketball always taken away
Kelly Hayward with a huge grin on her face every day
As for Mr Downes.....
At the end of this year depart will he
Well deserved after the long year of coping with 9D.

9K - Our Homeroom

Mrs Keall our reformed Miss Murray
Gets to homeroom in by no means a hurry.
Michelle, Fleur and David are always quiet.
Sam C. and Ricky will cause a riot.
Sam E. is our athletic one.
Sian is always full of fun.
Mrs Keall needs a volunteer
Kahlia shouts, "I'm over here."
Natacha L. thinks hippies are cool.
Adrienne knows Pearl Jam rule.
Greg's hobby is motorbikes.
Art and drawing are what Jonathon likes.
Sonya's got her smiles all down pat.
Sue-Ellen's there for a friendly chat.
"Berkeley, please tie your hair back."
Niceness is something Cheryl doesn't lack.
Aoife is our Irish gal.
Louise and Natasha S. are everyone's pals.
Cards is Manus' and Ryan's game
Stinky is Ben's alias and nickname.
Patrick, Stephen and Damien, I don't know too well,
But I'm sure they put Mrs Keall through hell.
Robert is our newsletter man,
When it comes to sports he's also a fan.
Little Terri giggles with glee.
Clinton, the Council Rep. just like me.
Ellen and Cathy have horses for pets,
It's something they make sure no one forgets.
I've run out of names and faces to rhyme.
We'll do it again next year sometime.
We'll be back again next year,
Until then we'll gratefully disappear.

Mr Robb in search for my money
Through-out Voc Ed Daniel has a dose
Michael Reimers fiddles with his nose
Vincent always swings on his chair
Glen sits quietly with his red hair
Everyone looks at Philbert's socks
While Laicey still scabs for her Docs
Natalie, David & Daniel get caught for that letter
You'd think that they'd all know much better
Luke tells us of Jesus death
But all Shane can think about is Beth Marisa and Nathan's height is the same
While Steve & Pat play their coin game
Cam thinks about computers as he is a whiz
But David still thinks about Liz
Kelly's surfing and Nicole's off dancing
She runs around spinning and prancing
Catherine and Megan are always in the locker room
Todd's hair looks like its been brushed with a broom
All in our homeroom are happy
And Mr Robb is still in dismay

Are you ready?

'Bye everyone

There have been many opportunities for contact between parents and staff throughout 1995.

Monday the sixth of November saw the annual orientation day for students coming into Year 8 in 1996. I find it hard to believe that our current Year 8 students have nearly completed their first year of high school.

This year our students have been special in so many different ways. However, there is no doubt that the most special feature about this group of students lies in who they are as people. We have one hundred and forty seven, thirteen and fourteen olds who are extremely happy being teenagers. This attitude is certainly one to be enjoyed by all. There has been no desire over the year for the students to try and be older or to become involved in activities that are unsuitable for people of this age. A normal day has simply shown students who play and enjoy the company of others in their year group. Even romance has not surfaced as a key item to be pursued !

It is extremely important to allow students in Year 8 to still be children. The fact that they have now entered high school does not mean that life has to become more adult like. The future will soon deny them their childhood and expect them to behave as adults.

the students need to continue to develop their work habits if personal career goals are to be achieved

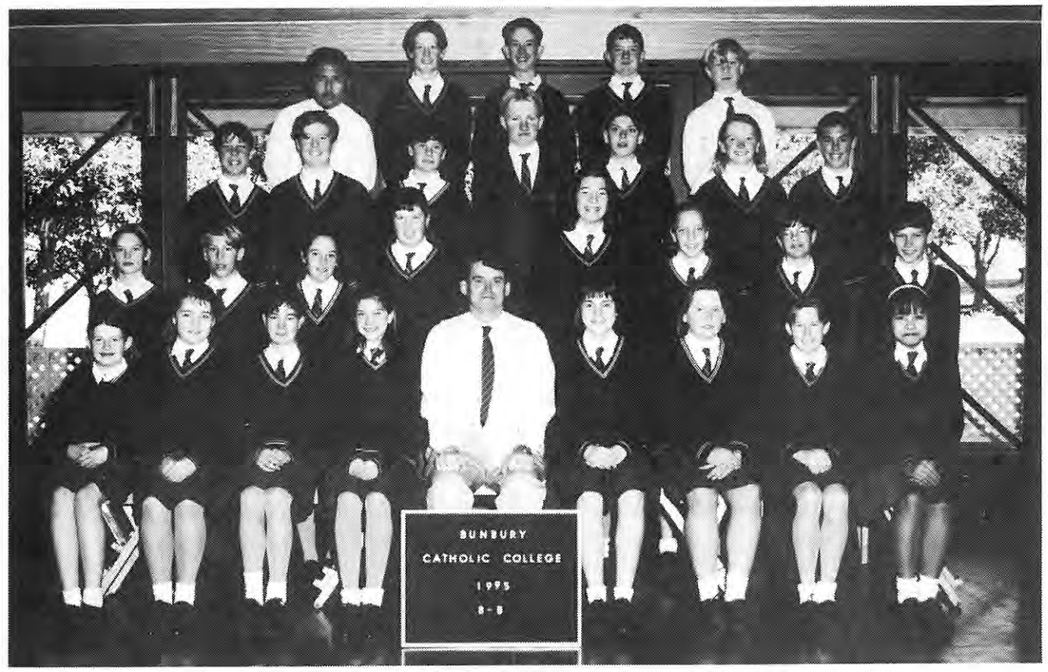

From an academic point of view, the students need to continue to develop their work habits if personal career goals are to be achieved. The last few years of high school will require commitment and dedication. The students are reminded that their progress from now on influences the course that can be studied in the following year.

There have been many opportunities for contact between parents and staff throughout 1995. These gatherings have seen large numbers of parents in attendance and a genuine positiveness about the Year 8 programme and Bunbury Catholic College. The pendulum seems to be on the move again as parents seek an education for their children that involves academic standards but more. There is once again a desire for children to be taught morals, a work ethic and an appreciation for all the beauty that exists in our world. Thank you parents for your support over the year. I encourage you to continue raising your children well and support the teachers in the future as much as you have done this year.

This year has seen two new teachers join our team in Year 8. Thank you to Mrs Horrobin and Miss Moore for your hard work and for bringing your own talents to our programme and your respective classes. Ms Battista and Mrs Johnson have once again continued to ensure that the best has been done for the students in their care.

May the joys of Christmas and the summer holidays be enjoyed by all the students, parents and staff.

TEACHER: Mr Mark Browning.

WE ARE WHO WE WERE ! - CLASS 8B

Class 8B is our name
Doing our work is the game
Mr Browning lets out a roar
So then Ben has to sit on the floor
Kelderman is the surfie type
Whose dream is to surf a ten foot pipe
Gendall is the basketball man
Who always tries to do a jam
Leighton is as pale as a sheet
While Jesse can't wait to move his feet
Louisa tries to chuck a funny
While Sheridan makes a face like a bunny
Emma and Anita are some of the smart lot
While Reaghan is always seen in a shop
Franco and Paul, well what can we say
Jarred can't wait for the end of the day
Daniel and Colbey are the sportsmen
While Andrew is trying to cluck like a hen
Chris is known as 'romper man'
While Hong is always lending a hand
Lizzie is known to burst out with laughter
While Kieran is trying to run a lot faster
George has been known to speak his mind
While Kathy is usually not far behind
Rebecca and Linda are always happy
While Jenny and Lisa are never snappy
Finally add Mitchell and Brooke to this lot
We were 8B and that's the lot !

By Chris, Troy, Leighton and Anthony.

There is a class that's named 8C, they're a very queer family.
There's Stacey we can't spell her name,
and Matt, well he is just the same.
Eva, she is very smart,
and Brooke just has a loving heart.
Karyn's the sporty one of the girls,
then there's Mark with those gorgeous curls.
Good old Nathan LOVES to dance, and over the hurdles Heath Brady would prance.
Anthony thinks he's the Italian Stallion while Astin should win the Aunty's medallion.
Chris is annoying, a typical guy,
he would shout, Mrs Johnson would sigh,
Josie Jones is a quiet achiever, while Louise is a fun believer.
Joeleen could talk for hours and hours,
while Jeremy dreams of war and powers.
Vanessa's an authentic Harvey girl,
while Richard Piggot thinks he's a pearl.
Vivien believes in fairy winkles, you'd wonder why Mrs Johnson doesn't have wrinkles.
Richard Kelly loves to surf, while Jye Colum loves a scurf.
Luke doesn't return his library books,
while Elise gives Heath dirty looks.
Aaron and Karyn get on fine,
but Mr Martino keeps them in line.
Ciara and Sharna joke around,
but from Sarah you wont hear a sound.
David and Craig are the only serious ones,
Aldo is the Italian teacher's son.
We drive Mrs Johnson round the bend.
I'm afraid our poem has come to an end .
If you walk past our class, remember our poem, it was a blast.

8H feel sorry for the rest, cause they all know we are the best.
Cathy and Isabelle are friends with Mel.
While Horrobin always has to bark at Froomy, Greg and Mark.
Jessica S.H. and Nicole R. sit there quietly.
While Ettiene and Carlo act very violently.
Oliver is our long distance runner, while Glenn and Harry act a bit dumber.
Kiwi and Rhys are our local Rugby blokes.
While Tammi and Nicole Q.
always write notes.
DeLuce and Megan never shut-up.
While we all shout and run a muck.
Vannessa Scott has curly hair.
While Micheal likes to swing on his chair.
Liz and Candice seem to get an "A"
While Dave and Brodie sit around all day.
Allen is extremely shy.
While Nic is a surfie guy.
Moya rides her bike to school.
While Lorenz and Anthony act a fool.
8H is the best homeroom on Earth,
Year sevens will find out when they take over our turf.

Alan is funny, April is kind, Anh's from Vietnam.
Bryce is charming - and charms the lot,
Cool as we are, we do have our faults,
David is quiet, while Daniel is new Excuses we're full of to go to the loo
Funny and bright we are, but loud as well
Glenn can be hushed, but sometimes laughs out loud
Haylea is cheerful although she daydreams a lot
Ian loves play more than the work he gets done
Justin and Jamie are fiddlers, while Jane works hard, Kangaroo's don't bounce at all, compared to us Leceile and Leila are quiet as mice, while Luke Bartley and Williams have to put their two pence in Mitchell can be late, but Marie is always on time
Natalie and Nicole shine neatly, Naomi's hockey mad, while Nick's hand is always up
Outsanding, we are, and proud to be in 8J
Please, relief teachers, keep away!
Queens and Kings are we, come down off our thrones
Rebecca is a real student, Ryan a comedian
Sonia is neat, Sean is quiet, while Scott's Bird and McAuley just want to have a good time
Tanaha is popular, our teacher Ms Battista is tough
Unless we make her laugh
Vital things for us are learning and fun
We sometimes wish, though, that school was all lunch and play
X-tra, x-tra, read all about us!
Yes! we yell when the final bell rings

FOURTH ROW: Ashley Bulley, Craig Jennings, David Rawling, Simon Dean, Justin Mills.
ABSENTEES: Rebecca Wight. TEACHER: Miss Rachel Moore.

Our class is in the year eight block,
in this poem we're describing Miss Moore's flock.
Miss Moore is talking all day long,
while Patrick and Simon are singing a song.
Kate and Hayley giggle non-stop,
while Craig is always getting top of the class.
Chad is always dressing up as a girl,
Rebecca and Brooke are having a whirl.
Damian's head is always in a book,
when Beau gets told off he likes to sook.
David's playing basketball,
And Jane is shopping at the mall.
Erin is a running champ,
while Trent is tunning up his amp.
Louis travelled to the Gold Coast, while Fiona dances the most.
Justin and Joseth are fantasy Kings, while Robert brings to many things.
Kyra just moved in this term,
Brendan looks like Mr Burns
Robert Ely is a soccer fan,
Jodie is always hitting a man.
Candice is flirting with the boys,
while Greg is making a lot of noise
Ashley Bully has got orange hair,
Sally always shares
Elisha is very wise,
Julia has got brown eyes.
Martin's the lost of the few?
I hope you like the 8M crew.
Patrick, Simon , Brendan,

SOUTHWEST INDEPENDENT SCHOOLS SWIMMING CARNIVAL

Our swimming team swam very well in the SWISSA carnival. Our junior team came second place behind Mandurah Catholic College by 3 points and our senior team came a very close second behind Grammar.

No overall team trophy was presented. The schools we competed against were Kolbe, Grammar, MacKillop, Frederick Irwin and Mandurah Catholic College.

The school was also involved in the Servite swimming squad time trials on Friday 10th March. They came up against Servite College at the Bunbury Swimming Pool. Many fine performances were recorded and even some personal achievements were recorded.

A DIVISION ACC SWIMMING CARNIVAL

The BCC swimming team competed in Perth at the newly re-developed Beatty Park swimming Complex. The A Division represents the top 8/10 schools in the ACC and is one of 5 carnivals of 40 or 50 competing schools. The ACC extends down to E Division and holds all events in the same week at both Beatty Park and the Superdrome.

RESULTS: Junior Girls: 3rd Santa Maria 130; 2nd John XXIII 137; 1st Newman College 143. Junior Boys: 3rd All Saints College 162; 2nd Bunbury Catholic College 146; 1st Newman 147.

Senior Girls: 3rd Mercedes 192; 2nd Newman College 212; 1st Santa Maria

221. Senior Boys: 3rd Mazenod College 189; 2nd All Saints College 212; 1st Newman 284.

Newman College won three trophies of the above categories and also the overall winning team.

Place	Points	School
8	316	Mercedes
7	475	Bunbury Catholic College
6	507	Mazenod and St Brigid's
5	539	Sacred Heart College
4	577	Santa Maria and Christian Brothers Fremantle
3	582	John XXIII
2	591	All Saints College
1	786	Newman College

In the final analysis the staff of Bunbury Catholic College were very proud to see our team compete so well against some of the best swimming schools in Wetern Australia. BCC is also recognised as being the only non-metropolitian school that has ever been in the A division (let alone two years in a row). Acknowledgements must also be extended to not only the Bunbury Swimming Club and to the Leschenault Swimming Club but also to our non-menbers who gave of their best.

Individual Results:

Toni Ciffolilli broke three records at the ACC and won the 50m freestyle in 28.47, and won her four individual events. Danny Novak won his 50m freestyle in 28.09 and came second in his three other events - breastroke, butterfly and backstroke. Tobin O'Kane picked up second in 50m breastroke in 35.88. Alison Wein won her 50m backstroke in 39.33. Andre Fabre won his 100 freestyle in 1.00.02 and placed 3rd in backstroke in 36.35

The 1995 swimming captains were:

Junior Boys:	Tobin O'Kane
Junior Girls:	Toni Ciffolilli
Senior Boys:	Andre Fabre
Senior Girls:	Melanie Prout

The Interhouse athletics were held on the 30 August and by far the most outstanding features of the day were the co-operation and involvement by competitors and the enthusiastic attitude that people brought to the event.

AUSTRALIAN MARIST NETBALL CARNIVAL ADELAIDE

JULY HOLIDAYS 1995

Our top team of netballers went to Adelaide during the school holidays to compete against Marist schools all over Australia. After months of training, the girls went with some great skills and a good team spirit.

With the leadership of Melanie Prout-Captain, and Natasha Burek-Vice Captain, the girls went into their first match on a cold wet winter morning. Within the first quarter we had two injuries-ligament damage to a knee and a broken wrist. So with only 7 players left we soldiered on for a few more games on that first day. Unfortunately we were carrying an injured player who had been hurt at a training match, so we ended up borrowing a talented player from our host school - Sacred Heart. So with our new team of 7 players, we finished all our games and managed to win five out of nine games and managed to come fifth out of nine teams—which was a terrific result considering our unfortunate injuries.

The members of the team—Melanie Prout, Natasha Burek, Melanie Lumley, Linda Earl, Emma Giumelli, Rikki Hubber, Anna Myers, Merrin Fabre and Kellie, the best player in the world, all came back with great memories. Those that will be at Bunbury Catholic College next year will certainly be interested in our tour to Sydney.

B.C.C. NETBALL TOUR - ADELAIDE

We could've gone to sunny Queensland, hot Northern Territory or even stayed in Perth, but No...! We got sent to cold, wet, windy Adelaide for the inaugural National Marist Netball Carnival. We knew the second we got off the plane we were in for an interesting week. However, we didn't let the weather dampen our enthusiasm or hopes.

We played ten games over two days, and played off for fifth and sixth against Catholic College Bendigo from Victoria on the third day. The games were very competitive yet played in a spirit of great sportsmanship.

We managed to play the first four minutes in our first game with a full team, then after that game we lost three girls to injury, one short of a full team for the next game.

We played other Marist schools from W.A., N.S.W., VIC, S.A. and Queensland with Mt Carmel from NSW being victors. Mt Carmel will be next years hosts of the now Annual National Marist Netball Carnival.

Over the four days, many new friendships were formed, fun was had by all, and in our free time we got to see the city, the umm... Hospital, the Physio, the sports nurse, the matron...

We'd like to thank all of the parents, the P&F and the school for their support and help with funding as without them the whole trip would not have been possible.

Mostly to Miss Ryan, Mrs Cairns and Mr Eglington for their time, support, patience, positive attitude, encouragement, friendliness, organization and giving up their holidays to take us away...and for their great strapping skills and always being on time.

DRAGON BOATING

Dragon boaters at the College have enjoyed some remarkable achievements since they joined the Spirit of Bunbury Dragon Boat Club as a junior crew in 1993. Under the guidance of Sarah Green (Captain), Gavyn Holker (Coach) and Ms Battista (Manager), the crew won the State Titles last season. This marked the end of a very successful regatta season including:

- a six second victory over the adult (mostly male) Firefighters Crew at the Fremantle Swan regatta;
- beating the Worsley Aluminators (adult crew) at the Bunbury Rowing Club Regatta;
- winning both the novice mixed trophy (against adult Worsley, Firefighters and Cable Sands crews) and the interschool mixed trophy (against adult crews).

Success over adult crews wasn't accidental—it took a lot of hard work and dedication. Congratulations to an outstanding crew: Sarah Green (captain), Liana Casagrande, Glen Innes, Kristy Eastough, Kinga Paszduzka, Yasmin Uchwal, Brendon Dickinson, Nicole Bray, Donovan Fantasia, Jacob D'ath, Robert Sanderson-Miller, Kate Legg, Matt Potter, Simon Kobelke, Stacey Harding, Rebecca Deluce, Melanie Wright, Glenn Dickinson, Michael Kelly, Robert Bray, Jason Humble, Sean Holker and Special Congratulations to Emma Potter, who received the Club award for the outstanding junior paddler.

FOOTBALL

B.C.C. has had continued success in Football this year. Both the first 18 and the junior team had exceptional years both on the field and in their level of involvement .

FIRST 18

In what is a growing competition B.C.C. competed in the SWISSA Shield against Grammar, MacKillop Catholic College and Frederick Irwin.

Our footballers and the Coach Mr Craig Doyle

After convincing wins against the two Mandurah schools B.C.C.'s easy run was brought to a sudden halt when defeated by Grammar at the Grammar oval, in the final round.

The Grand Final was a rematch between the two schools. With B.C.C. keen to avenge the loss and after spending hours on pre-game strategy, the lads took to the field. The first quarter was a massacre as Scanlon, Traynor, Ghandour, Bird and Milardis dominated the middle and sent the ball forward time after time.

The trend continued with Woolhead, Williams, Dean and Maher dominating their respective positions. A pleasing aspect of the game was the blend of all players who ranged from Year Ten to Year Twelve.

With a final margin of five goals, the team won the inaugural shield and finished their school football careers on a high.

The junior 18 also performed well only losing one game to MacKillop in the preliminary round. Again the two teams met in the Grand Final, with the added inclusion of six of the best year nine players—who hadn't played in the previous match—B.C.C. were more than ready.

With the strong back line and hard at the ball tactics the Junior 18 quickly established a small lead. This was enough to generate enthusiasm and players such as Warburton, Clark, Piggot, Lowe, Humble, Byrne and others began to dominate.

The final five point margin was a testament to the great game and the beginning of a rivalry that should last between the two schools.

Credit must go to both the boys from Years Eight and Nine for their endless endeavour, involvement at training and hard disciplined attitude. Their success was the result of the efforts they put in.

Overall football has been very successful this year. The last games which were very well attended by staff, students and parents actually showed some school spirit, something I hope can be sustained and built on next year. Thanks to all the boys for their excellent efforts.

Coach Craig Doyle .

WATER POLO

The school water polo programme was very successful this year both in terms of winning and more importantly participation and development. Over 35 students tried the sport and 27 played on a regular weekly basis. With the impressive numbers we had, BCC entered three teams into the South West Schools Shield. BCC Red and Green comprised of stronger more experienced players while BCC White was a mixture of first and second year players.

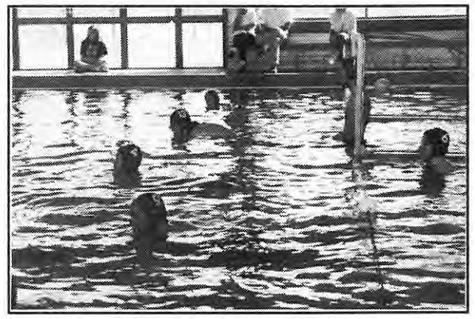

As the season progressed BCC Red were proving unbeatable while BCC Green and White fought for second place with Grammar #1 and Newton Moore. By the seasons end all three teams had improved a great deal and with a late season surge B.C.C. Green joined Red in the grand final. White finished fourth and were playing Grammar #1 for 3rd place.

To have three BCC teams in the top four of a seven team competition was outstanding and a credit to all players. The play-off for third was an inspiring game as B.C.C. White, made up of mostly Year Eights and led excellently by Ben Donnan, played against a Grammar team made up of many Year Elevens and Twelves. In a fantastic game B.C.C. went down by one goal six-five in perhaps the most exciting and best game of the year.

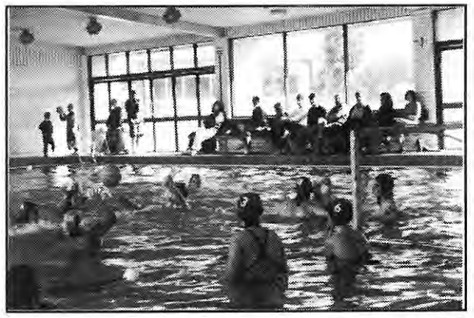

The grand final was also close with both B.C.C. Red and Green playing tight defence. In a low scoring torrid affair the under dogs B.C.C. Green held out B.C.C. red who, although squandering many opportunities, were outplayed on the day. The final score being three-two.

Thanks must go to several people for their support during the season. Ms. Siobhan Twaddle for her help in coaching and encouragement. Mr. Tony Ilacqua for his tireless efforts in coaching, umpiring and organising. Also thank you to the parents who supported and put up with the awkward training times.

1996 promises to be even better as the competition goes from strength to strength and we look towards a third title.

VOLLEYBALL

The three Water Polo Teams That did so well in this year's competition.

This was the first time that volleyball have been introduced to year 8 students at this school. After outstanding interest early in the season the numbers dropped off and we were left a guys and girls team. For their first effort they both performed extremely well. Due to the rescheduling of the playing nights our teams had to stop because of other commitments. However volleyball in 1996 will be bigger and better than ever.

Mr Wilkinson and Mr Stewart

GIRLS VOLLEYBALL

In term one and two, eight year 8 girls formed the inaugural year 8 girls volleyball team. Our coaches Mr Wilkinson and Mr Stewart, encouraged us to train at 7.00am every Thursday throughout the two terms. Unfortunately we did not have a lot of wins but we had heaps of fun trying and playing as a team. We hope to be back next year to keep on fighting.

BOYS VOLLEYBALL

Being in the Boys Volleyball Team was great fun. Our team consisted of Nick the star scorer, Richard who had shot of the year, Martin our main man, Glenn who was slow at changing, Fye the knee pad man, Burrsey the slam man and Patrick our star server. For a team of guys who had never touched a volleyball we did really well. We finished a controversial third.

Nick Milordis and Glenn Clarke

CAPEL TO COLLIE RELAY

This year the school student team and staff corporate team battled it out over the 92 km Capel to Collie Relay. The two teams were close all the way and finished within 15 seconds of each other after 6 hours and 36 minutes of gruelling hills. In particular I would like to thank Mr Doyle, Mr deLima and Mr Wilkinson for giving their time. Also thanks to Mr & Mrs Harbutt for their assistance and to Mr & Mrs Clarke and the O'Kanes for coming along to watch. Finally, I would like to thank Owen Groves and to Daniel Clarke for coming and running as well. Special mention goes to Daniel Clarke and to Andrew Harnett for being the only students who have completed four of the Capel to Collie Relays.

ANGELA SUMMERFIELD

This year Angela Summerfield returned for the National Age Athletics championships. Whilst there she competed in the 400 and 800 m where she ran just outside of the minor medals. Angela has been recognized as one of the top junior girls middle distance runners in Western Australia and will be setting her sights on the next seasons W.A. titles and Australian titles.

Angela Summerfield returned from the Cook Islands where she competed with the Australian under 18 Athletics team at the Oceania Championships. Angela competed in the event and won a Silver medal in a personal best (grass time) of 2:17.5. She was only beaten by one second with both runners breaking the existing record. The Australian team won the medal tally with New Zealand second. In July, Angela also competed with the WA Little Athletics team in Singapore.

PAUL CROSS

In July, Paul Cross ran in the Commonwealth Bank W.A. All Schools' cross country running championships in Perth. In a very competitive six km race Paul's U/17 age division was combined with the U/19 boys' division. Overall Paul ran 20th. However, when the age divisions were split, Paul had come third in his age. Paul Cross also won the 5 km Open Male Collie Fun Run in 17.24 minutes. Anthony Brookes won the U/17's division in a little over 19 minutes.

Paul's brother won the U/15's age division and now they have both been invited to compete for W.A. at the Australian championships.

ATTENTION.....

My name is Holly Monkman, I live in down south in a town called Dunsborough. All my life I have lived by the beach and at the age of eight I was introduced to the wonderful sport of surfing. I have now been surfing for eight years and competitively surfing for about three, which has given me a really happy and most enjoyable life.

Holly Monkman
Riding a wave

For the last three years I have attended the Mark Richards training camp in Queensland to train with other up and coming junior surfers from each state. At these camps I have learnt how important it is to keep fit and healthy and to stay away from drugs and alcohol which interfere with your surfing fitness. I have also learnt how to prepare for contests and strategies during contest surfing.

This year I competed in as many competitions as I could to get my competition experience right up for bigger contests for me like the Junior Australian Titles. I am aiming to get in the Australian Team this year at the 1995 Junior Australian titles held in Newcastle so I can travel to Bali and California for the World Titles.

My results this year are as follows:

- Star/Rip Curl Junior Summer Series -1st
- Hillzeez/Creatures 1st State Round -Junior 1st -Open 2nd
- Corner Surf/Wet Dreams 2nd State Round -Junior 1st-Open 1st
- Fremantle Surf 'n' Sports 1A open Womens Australian Championship Circuit - 3rd
- Wet Dreams/The Edge Pro 2A open Womens Australian Championship Circuit -5th
- Australian School Surfing Association State Titles -1st
- Wasra/Rip Curl 3rd State Round -Junior 1st - Open 2nd
- 1995 Open State Championship (Women)
- 1995 Junior State Championship (Junior Women)

After competitively surfing for three years I have learnt how to cope with the male dominance in this sport. To stand out from other women surfers, a lot of hard work and training is needed to get the results surfing companies will look at to sponsor. The work has slowly paid off and I'm now sponsored by, Quicksilver, Gorilla Grip, Edge surfboarding, Wet Dreams Accessories and Hillzeez Down Surf Shop who help pay for my expenses and surfing needs.

When I finish school I want to join the World Surfing Tour and travel all around the world surfing at some of the worlds most treasured places. I'm really not sure what the future is going to bring me but what I do know is that surfing for me will always come first.

HOLLY MONKMAN

'LIGHTNING CHIFFA'

In BCC's hall of fame there stands out a star known as Toni Ciffolilli. Toni has made it BIG time, now internationally recognised as well as being one of the states finest productions in the swimming field. This year Toni has set once again bigger, better, and, faster records, throughout the year. So Toni to you from all at Bunbury Catholic - Congratulations!

Fifteen year old Bunbury Swimming Club member, Toni Ciffolilli, returned from the Australian Open National Short Course Championships in Adelaide, where she had completed a hectic schedule of nine swims over the four days.

Competing for the first time as a member of the Open National State Team, she was up against the best Australia has to offer, competing alongside greats such as Hayley Lewis, Samantha Riley, Nicole Stevenson, Lisa Curry, Rebecca Brown and Susie O'Neill. Toni remained undaunted and despite having a flu virus, showed grit and determination to swim six new personal best times, which earned her a place in an A Final and four B finals, setting six new state records and eighteen Country records along the way.

Toni made her first National Open Finals in the 100m Individual Medley events, collecting a blue Finals ribbon and finishing eighth overall in Australia, in a time of 1: 05: 94, which set a new female 15 year W.A State record. Toni also competed in four B finals, those being 50m Breastroke, 400m Individual Medley, 200m Breastroke and 50m Backstroke. While finishing eighth in the 50m Backstroke B final, (16th overall), Toni set a new Open State W.A. all time record, as well as the 15 year, 16 year, 17 year and Open State Residential Records for her new backstroke time of 30:87.

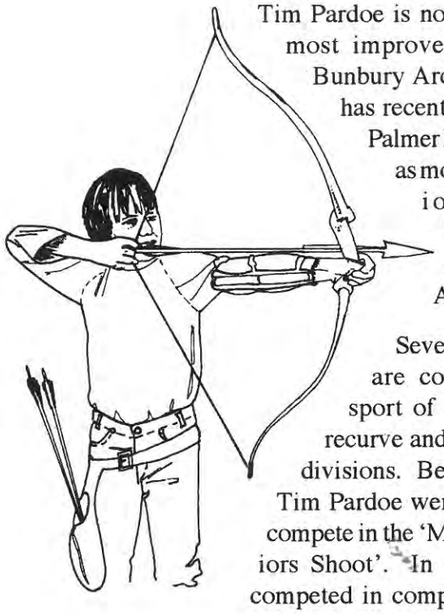

Two third placings in the 50 m Breastroke and 400 m Individual Medley B Finals, earned Toni the Australian ranking of 11th in both events and a new personal best time in the 200 m Breastroke, saw Toni in the B Final; 16th overall.

Toni Swimming her best

This was a tremendous opportunity for Toni to gain experience with the worlds best, and she made most of her opportunities, beating Lisa Curry and Rebecca Brown along the way. Toni will now be looking to build on this pleasing start in National Open competition.

ARCHERY

Tim Pardoe is now known as the most improved junior at the Bunbury Archery club. Tim has recently picked up the Palmer Perpetual Trophy as most improved Junior and the Dandridge Encouragement Award.

Several BCC students are competing in the sport of archery in both recurve and compound bow divisions. Ben Sciesinski and Tim Pardoe went to Melville to compete in the 'Melville State Juniors Shoot'. In under 18's Ben competed in compound bow division and came a creditable second with 735 points out of a possible 900. Tim competed and won the Recurve novice division and also scored the top score for the tournament with 832 points out of 900. Both boys have now been invited to try out for the Western Australian team to compete at the Australian National Titles 1996 to be held in Perth.

This year Tim Pardoe, Ben Sciensinski and Simon Longbottom travelled to Baldivis to compete in the annual Baldivis Safari Archery Competition. Unfortunately Ben experienced equipment failure and could not complete the event. However, Tim won the under 18 recurve division with a score of 688 out of 800 and Simon was placed second in the under 18 compound division also scoring 688.

On Sunday July 23 Tim Pardoe and Ben Sciesinski travelled to the Swan Recreation Centre in Midland to compete in the State indoor titles. Tim won Bronze in the Recurve Division and Ben won Gold in the U18 Compound Division.
